“The dark ages may return on the gleaming wings
Of science. Beware, I say, Time may be short.”

Winston Churchill, March 1946

2001, the beginning of the millennium brought forth new riddles and more enigmas. A bizarre creature reported still creating havoc, later another bizarre entity attacking humans in India. While there was talk of human cloning and stem cell research, more bizarre incidents were being reported all over the globe. There was talk of war in Israel and Macedonia. Will humanity look deep inside and realize that we are just dust in the wind, that there is something much more wonderful and fantastic around us. Remember "there is none as blind as those who will not see." Following is the first humanoid encounters reported in the new millennium.

Location. West Covina, California

Date: 2001

Time: 2:00 a.m.

The witness living in a hilly neighborhood at the time woke up around 2 am when all her dogs were "literally screaming", she had never heard them do that, she had two pit bulls and one husky. She went to the front yard to check and there she saw two bizarre creatures. The creatures were about seven feet tall and were sitting on their hind legs. They were furry, their ears were rounded and their faces had a white trim of fur, they looked like a cross between a "raccoon and a monkey type creature" with kangaroo legs. They were holding a pine cone (examining it?). When they saw the witness they took off up the side of a hill. Their legs seemed to be strangely "inverted". She called the Animal and Game department the next day and reported it. She then kept receiving calls all that week from that department wanting every single detail. According to the witness, "they obviously knew something because they were very interested".

Time: 08:00 a.m.

The witness had just dropped her kids off to primary school and being a local she knew most of the back roads and shortcuts and as usual took a small dirt road she used regularly in order to avoid school traffic. On her way up the road she began to feel uneasy and strange, even a little anxious...for no real apparent reason. She ignored it until she saw something on the side of the road. This road is only just wide enough for one car so it's very obvious when something is parked on either side. As she got closer she could see 3 or 4 'suited' men. At first she thought they were wearing beekeeper's outfits but as she got closer she realized that the suits they were wearing 'looked exactly like spacesuits', the reflective visor, the antennas, the puffy gloves and big boots. She was convinced it was just a normal suit people working would wear. As she got even closer she noticed what looked like a 'futuristic' van, (that's the best she could describe it), parked close to the strangers. Another strange detail was that the figures didn't even seem to register her being there...they wouldn't even move off the road. No other cars were around and no houses/businesses/sheds or anything were anywhere near her. She drove on and left the strange scene behind. Later she called the council's office, the police, etc and no one knew anything about it.

A husband and wife were driving through the area surveying damage caused by a recent tornado near the Ohio River when they spotted a giant pterodactyl type bird. It was solid red in color, with smooth leathery skin, no feathers. It had extremely long wings and a long curled up tail. It had a thick beak with a knob-like protrusion of some type on top of its head. Its wingspan was about 20 feet or better. It was so big that the wife at first mistook it for an airplane. The creature banked right just above the tree tops, still descending with its feet outstretched as if was about to land. Its feet were like those of a normal type bird with long talons. The witnesses noticed hair growing 5 or 6 inches long growing just above its feet. The husband wanted to chase after it but the wife was so terrified that she pleaded for him not to.

Location. Wielkopolska province, Poland

Date: 2001 Time: evening

A 23-year old woman was camping in the area and one evening was walking along a forest on a long meadow on her way to her tent when she noticed a bizarre creature standing by a nearby lake. The creature made a movement as if picking something up from the ground. It then apparently heard the witness approach and quickly disappeared from sight. The witness stood literally petrified as she watched the creature standing only 8 meters from her. She feels that the creature was also frightened. She described the creature as resembling a large insect (mantis?). Its face was long and thin, its body very thin and subtle and it was about 1.6m tall. Its skin was gray or beige in color. It also had something resembling long and narrow insect wings. Its eyes were large and dark, insect-like. The eyes terrified the witness. "It gazed at me and I knew that it did not know what it would do. Our encounter had no meaning or aim; it appears to have been a total surprise for both of us.” The witness stated. The witness states that she has witnesses numerous other strange phenomena since that particular encounter. (No details on that yet).

Rossana Tejeda Lopez had gone to the local supermarket in order to help her mother do her shopping. While in the market she walked into one of the aisles and noticed a strange figure that appeared to be observing everything around him. It was a very tall human-like figure at least 2.50m in height, very thin, with very long legs, and wearing a single piece shiny black pair of pants which included a pair of black boots, it also wore a tight-fitting orange-yellow-brown T-shirt. The stranger’s skin appeared to be hairless and seemed porous in nature. It also had long arms, and it had kind of silvery-gold colored hair, his eyes were of a light gray color. Rossana summoned her mother and both approached the strange figure in order to obtain a closer look. As the two women stared at the stranger, this one totally ignored them, as if they were not there. The two women then followed the stranger throughout the store; he never looked back at them. Strangely the rest of the store customers never looked at the peculiar man, not even turned to look. It appeared that he was invisible to the rest of those present.

Date: 2001            Time: evening

In a small village a local woman named Tatyana R. was returning home alone from a discotheque and was approaching a gully when suddenly she saw a very tall humanoid silhouette close to 2 meters in height, obviously a "man". In the darkness she could not see many details on the figure. The creature approached her and politely greeted her in the pure Russian language (probably telepathically) asking her why she was walking alone this time of night. Still thinking that she had encountered a very tall "weirdo", just another cavalier or (ladies' man) and answered that she usually did this and was used to it. The tall stranger volunteered to accompany her home but she refused and kept walking away alone. When she suddenly turned around she was stunned to see the tall "man" not walking but floating just above the ground and following her. The brave woman increased her walking pace; she was just 5 minutes away from her house. When she stopped she felt an invisible force pulling her backwards, she felt rushing backwards. The "man" then told her that if she refused his company he would "punish" her. Suddenly a very strong wind threw knocked the hat from the man's head and to her outmost amazement she could see additional details of the stranger's head, the rest of his body appeared camouflaged under typical human-looking clothing, also the darkness would not let her see to many details. The head was indeed amazing; it was nonhuman, with two horns on it (!). Seeing her horribly torpid and frozen state, the humanoid only laughed and suddenly vanished, either dissolved in the air or quickly rushed into the darkness and out of sight. Since this frightening incident the witness now refuses to walk alone at night.

Date: 2001

Time: evening

A local man was retrieving water from a stream near the Red Swamp when suddenly he noticed what appeared to be a 'girl' sitting on a rock, near the shore. He looked at the strange girl who according to the witness had eyes the color of 'turbid seawater'. He thought the girl was stranded and offered assistance; however she looked intently at him and extended a hand full of red berries. He does not remember clearly what happened after that but does not think he took the berries. A friend found him sitting next to a tree in a state of confusion. They found scattered wolf berries on the ground nearby and noticed a strange 'odor' in the air.

Location: Russell Park, New York

Date: 2001 Time: night

After seeing UFOs in a park the witness experienced a period of missing time. Later he was able to recall the incident fully. He saw a noiseless alien craft come down and land. He saw a ramp open as if inviting him inside. He went up the ramp ducking as he went in. The floor of the ramp felt strange on the bottom of his feet. Almost like a skin more than a metal ramp. Inside it was dimly lit, his cousin that had accompanied him was nowhere in sight. Inside he saw huge octagonal metallic walls or doors, about 9 feet high. The inside of the craft appeared to be larger than the outside of the craft. Each wall had a large symbol that looked like a different complex pattern burned into it. He began to receive messages in his head and turned to see three gray skinned humanoids with large heads and child-like bodies sitting around some sort of biological hi tech computer device. They wore tight fitting diver suits; they did not look up at the witness. He asked questions in his mind and received quick answers. He was informed that they were advanced bipedal animals with the soul or spirit of demons with great scientific knowledge that people on Earth could not begin to understand. The frightened witness began experiencing heart palpitations, shallow breathing, and tunnel vision. He began to pray. The craft was surprisingly simple and the floor had an interesting structure and design similar to cutting an orange in half and seeing those lines coming out from the center of a single focused point. There were no windows. He asked them how they navigate through space and survive. He was told that they use their minds for navigational purposes. It took three humanoids to properly fly and navigate this craft for interstellar travel. He also saw the top of a cylinder that was like looking at an advanced 3-d computer monitor with images stacked over images, like a hologram. The screen was round like a computer monitor that was laid face up. He saw star charts or lines connecting constellations and it had an alien font or hieroglyphic data on the outer rim of this device. They told the witness that they made it work by placing their hands on what he could only describe as a control panel. The humanoids had two fingers with an opposable thumb.

Two witnesses were walking near a section of the street where the street lamps had burned out. They suddenly heard a weird rasping-screeching sound. They had been carrying a flashlight and pointed it at the source of the sound. There they saw a strange creature that looked like it was about to spring. It had red eyes, and when it turned and fled the witnesses noticed that it had two powerful hind-legs. They then heard rustling sounds coming from the trees and fled the area.

The main witness and his father was 'coon' hunting at a place called Nat's Creek near the city of Inez. As they stood outside their truck that was stuck in the mud, they called for the dogs to come back; however, the dogs would only come so close to us and the truck. They turned around and ran. They then heard something going around in a circle like it was hopping. So his father and the witness got into their vehicle. Two other friends of the family were on the top of the ridge signaling with their headlights of their vehicle to find where the witness and his father where located. His father turned on his headlights to signal back and when the lights came on the creature appeared standing in front of the vehicle. They stared at it and it stared back. The main witness described the creature, which all four witnesses saw, as being about six and a half feet tall and 'hunched over'. It had yellow eyes with a long snout and sharp teeth about three inches long. It walked on two legs like a man would but after the lights had hit it the beast 'hopped like a kangaroo' into the woods. Its fur was described as being long and dark brown.

In front of the front of the table stood four human-like figures whose bodies seemed to emit a white light, fluorescent in appearance. The witness could not see any facial details only a protuberance resembling a nose; he could not see eyes or mouths, ears or hair. He began to feel that the beings did not represent any danger to him. He was then encouraged to ask what they wanted of him. He was told that they were from a place, which he understood it to be called "Shiraqueanos" They were apparently in some kind of mission and was told that he was not unable to return to his home, however if he did not agree on this conditions he would be let go and another person would be found. she saw its large black eyes that terrified her. She couldn't see any irises or pupils in the eyes. The entity was large & "shapeless" and totally inhuman. However Olga had the feeling that the entity wanted to communicate with her. She didn't hear anything but somehow she understood that the entity "wanted something from her". She apparently fell asleep and thought the experience had been a nightmare. She had difficulty sleeping after the encounter and suffered from insomnia, sedatives did not help her.

A young man and his wife were driving home one night in two separate vehicles. Her car had been 'acting up' lately so they were using a pair of walkie-talkies purchased at a local Wal-Mart in order to stay in constant contact with each other should something go wrong. When she began to slow down her husband asked her what the matter was. She told him that something was running down the middle of the road in front of her, coming in her direction. Then she suddenly slammed on the brakes and screeched to a stop. The thing wasn't moving now, she told him, just standing in the road, and it was some kind of monster.

He could tell by the tone of her panicky voice that his wife was definitely not joking. He was only a few seconds behind as he approached his terrified wife's car the "thing" she was looking at bounded up and over her car, landing in the road behind it, and started running towards the second vehicle. It was very swift and in a flash it was upon him. He was able to get a good look at the thing before it leaped over his own car and disappeared into the darkness behind them. It was a big 'werewolf-looking' thing, he said, completely covered with shaggy hair. It had cruel-looking eyes, pointed ears and long fangs and claws. He screamed into the radio for his wife to "Go! Go! Go!" and they both got the 'hell' out of the area as fast as possible. The werewolf had looked at him just before it jumped, he claimed, and it was a terrible feeling. Both witnesses claim that they will never forget that night as long as they live.

Location. Near Sretensk, Chita region, Zabaikal'ye, East Siberia, Russia

Date: 2001 Time: various

In a specific valley located in dense Siberian taiga and rocks outside the small town of Sretensk there is evidence of an anomalous area or presence. Possibly related to the space time continuum or perhaps an alien base or dimensional portal, on August 27 2002 two men who visited the location (Pyotr Valerievich Grigorenko, a tourist guide and his friend Alexander Vladimirovich Banschikov, a building engineer experienced a bizarre "compression of time" it seemed that for them the whole day only lasted for about 20 minutes (!). From the top of one specific rock Banschikov also observed hemispherical forms resembling domes of red and pink tints located at different locations within the valley. In the valley the men also saw dozens of deformed or uprooted centuries-old pine trees and larches. The pine trees appeared to have been uprooted by hurricane force winds and had strangely fallen in a positioned which formed a straight line. Local hunters have repeatedly encountered UFOs, strange lights and other anomalous phenomena, but are rather reluctant to speak about the incidents. According to some of their testimonies the appearance of strange lights are usually accompanied by a hissing or crackling sound, similar to that of a burning torch, this is also accompanied by the sensation of physical fatigue and nervousness. There are also recorded instances in which isolated hunters have suddenly felt a tremendous dread or fear and dropped everything (including their rifles) and run from the area, some running as much as 20km.

In 2001 a friend of Grigorenko that was living in an isolated hut in the region reportedly would leave the hut late at night and walk several kilometers in order to meet with a "stranger". The stranger was usually dressed in a dark hood like tunic girded with a lace. In appearance the stranger was definitely not a local and apparently not human. He was very tall and looked like a man of 70-90 years of age but very strong in appearance. The stranger would teach his visitor to "see things with his heart" and answered some of his questions by using telepathically. The witness did not go into detail as to what were the themes of their many conversations. Apparently he swore an oath not to talk of his experiences. On several occasions, Grigorenko himself saw a bizarre 2-meter tall black humanoid with an elongated rectangular-shaped head.

The humanoid moved in complete silence even on top of dry foliage. Usually this figure will come out from behind a ridge away from a local dirt road and would accompany Grigorenko and his friend at a distance of 25 to 30 meters. The humanoid's appearance was always preceded by a feeling of discomfort and uneasiness. Many times they felt so much that they would hastily return to their cabin. Their second meeting with the humanoid was not less intense, Grigorenko's friend did not see the humanoid but could "hear" its presence, which he describes as an unpleasant and oppressive sound, but which Grigorenko never hears. According to Alexander (Grigorenko's friend) the sound is similar to a rattling shout or squeal at a very high pitch. The humanoid figures looks relatively "flat" (not three dimensional) and the witnesses could not see details of its physical make up. Its arms and legs appeared to be long and "bent" it also seems to be able to bend at waist level. The witnesses noted that the phenomena seems to be of a seasonal nature usually from July to October. Both men have reportedly taken dozens of photographic film at different locations in the valley but upon developing the film, the film appears either overexposed or black with a red hue (radiation?). The area used to be good for hunting but game animals have reportedly left the area.

Two peculiar strangers again visited the witness to a previous UFO encounter. These two were different from the others. They were at least six-feet tall, very bony, with head, hands and feet out of proportion to the rest of the body. They wore gray suits that seemed to be “oily”, had black ties and hats plus wraparound sunglasses that they never took off. When questioned about the glasses they remarked that they could see perfectly well. Their ears stood out from their heads and their skin was pale white, whereas their fingernails were gray in color. They never removed the hats during their visit. And throughout the whole time only one of them spoke. When asked for ID’s they displayed “silver” cases that contained a photo an unusual symbol, plus their names in small print. Upon entering the kitchen they asked the witness to please unplug the microwave, they also told him to turn the computer off. The two Persian cats were going crazy dashing around the room, and trying to get out of the window, which was closed. Each man carried a briefcase with an inverted L shaped handle. The man that did all the talking asked to see the witness unusual watch, he then removed from his briefcase four small containers, and each had a different colored top. Opening two he proceeded to pour the contents over the watch. He told the concerned witness that no harm would come to the watch. He was given $250 for the watch and told that they would give him the rest later. He told them that he was moving soon, to this they replied “We know, don’t worry, we can find you if we want to.” They soon departed without the common courtesies, staring blankly at the witness as he extended his hand. Once again the witness hurried to the bedroom window only to find, as before, no sign of either man departing, nor could any vehicle be heard leaving. After the visit the witness felt drained, had a severe headache that lasted for two days and a rash on his arms, face and chest.

According to the local press, a 27-year old resident of the village, Vitaliy M, had been missing from home for three days in a row. When he returned he told his wife and other relatives an incredible story. He claimed he had been abducted by aliens and taken to some type of alien base in space. Vitaly had been searching for mushrooms and herbs in a forest located to the east of the village on a mountainous plateau when suddenly to his outmost surprise he encountered a hovering UFO above the forest. A beam of light emitted from the object apparently transported witness inside the UFO. According to the witness during the whole episode, which seemed “never ending” to him, he found himself in some type of circular room, with walls that emanated an even matt-white soft light. His will to resist as well as his body were totally paralyzed. During this whole time he felt as he had been put under some type of very strong mind control and his ability to think normally had been “slowed down”. He was then subjected to various biomedical and other procedures that as far as he understood were tests that the aliens were conduction on him. The aliens used sophisticated instruments and devices that he had never seen before, including some “shiny medical instruments”, detectors, etc. Some of the procedures had been very unpleasant, but mostly he did not feel any pain. As he understood they aliens had selected him as a kind of “control exemplar” of the Homo sapiens species, particularly to establish how the terrible ecological conditions on Earth influenced the human species. He did not give a detailed description of his abductors as well as the object that he was taken in, except for the information were of the basic humanoid type.

Roberto Hernandez and other family members were camping in an isolated area of the mountain and were exploring some old abandoned mines when they heard loud grunting sounds coming from an undetermined source. Going outside the mine to look they perceived a strange humming sound in the air and saw mysterious flashes of light overhead. The lights flew over and in front of the witnesses at very high speed. Later, walking back to their camping site their path was illuminated by beams of light that seemed to originate from the top of the trees. They also heard the sound of footsteps among the brush, apparently from several "persons" moving about. Later while in their tents they were unable to sleep. Soon they noticed the presence of numerous large black rats with large red luminous eyes that came out of nowhere. They were about 25 of these bizarre "rats" that seemed to frolic around the campgrounds totally unafraid. Suddenly the witnesses noticed a bright sphere of light that was "bouncing" up and down from car to car as if inspecting them. (The cars were at the nearby parking area.) At this time they also heard the loud grunting sounds again (similar to the ones they had heard before). Afraid, most of the family members closed themselves inside their tents except for Mr. Hernandez that remained guarding the tents with a flashlight. At this point the rats began climbing the tent ropes apparently in an attempt to get inside. Suddenly the sphere of light that had been hovering above the vehicles began approaching Mr. Hernandez, expanding as it did so; it suddenly transformed itself into a tall luminous human-like figure that floated just above the ground. The feet were not visible as that part of the body had apparently not materialized completely. The figure was that of a tall man wearing a long gray tunic with an unknown type of design around the chest area. The man seemed to have a luminous diadem on his head. The man had very fine chiseled features and long brown hair. As he approached the tents he stopped, looked at the rats and made a quick "wave" like gesture with his right hand, suddenly the rats scattered in all directions and vanished. The man then stared at the witness that perceived a mental message telling him to relax and to go to sleep that they were going to be safe. A sort of stupor overcame Hernandez and he went to sleep. Moments later his wife, Iris Mendez, and daughter Ivelisse that were still in their tents noticed the presence of a very tall figure silhouetted behind the tent. Both women then began floating in mid-air; Mrs. Mendez rose up to the ceiling then fell back down slowly. The silhouetted figure remained standing outside. Ivelisse felt some type of mental communication and felt a sense of calm, suddenly her body rose up again and she lost consciousness. Mrs. Mendez then apparently also went to sleep.

A man reported that while sleeping he was awakened by what he thought was a fly on his arm. Upon awakening he saw an alien face, a gray, a large round head with large round black eyes. The alien held an instrument with a type of needle in his hand and was attempting to penetrate the witness arm. He struck the alien (apparently he was not paralyzed) and reported that the skin felt soft. He then noticed another alien on the other side of him and prepared to strike it when he was suddenly rendered unconscious. When he awoke he found a long scratch on his arm indicating that the instrument was jarred when he struck the alien. His father had similar incision marks on the same arm although he would not admit to any unusual experiences.

Several family members living in a remote location heard strange screams or yells coming from the woods resembling that of a woman crying out in pain, terrified they called the police and went out to investigate. The police searched the area with high-powered lights but could not find anything. Sometime later they heard the screams again and again the police was summoned and again nothing was found. Next time they decided not to call the police again. Days later the dogs were heard barking in the backyard, a female witness points the flashlight out back and sees looking back at her 2 huge red eyes. She focuses the light on them but can't make out the figure. She yelled out for the additional family members but the eyes disappeared. She vaguely sees a dark figure run into the woods. The witness had just arrived at his parking lot and had shut off the engine and lights of his vehicle when he heard a helicopter hovering in the distance. He looked up over his duplex and saw what appeared to be a black helicopter hovering in the background about 200 feet above the ground with one pilot inside because the cockpit light was on. It hovered for only a few minutes as if it was looking around and flew off. The night was very dark and there was no moonlight. A minute or two later he was getting ready to leave his car thinking it was only a police copter checking the area when all of the sudden there appeared what seemed to him like another helicopter only about 50 feet above the complex. Interior lights came on and he could see what appeared to be a round dome-like protrusion like you would see on the underside of a blimp, but it was larger than anything he had ever seen on a blimp even at close range, the windows were fairly large and opaque colored, sort of with a translucent sheen. Inside he saw a standing figure that looked like a large human. The figure had very broad shoulders, big arms and what appeared to be a fairly large head. He couldn't make out any other features because of the opaque windows with a metal-like sheen.

The being appeared to move (walk) around the cockpit almost robotic-like adjusting different controls which he could not see. The craft hovered silently over the apartment, with no movement, no outside lights and absolutely no noise as he discovered when he opened his side window. It didn't move, however there was no wind blowing either. He felt very apprehensive and decided not to get out. He is sure he had never seen a 'blimp' like this, however he could not see the shape or size of the craft because there was very little light in the parking lot and no moonlight and the craft itself had no exterior lights. The being inside did not appear to be hostile, just curious. He thought for a minute and decided to communicate with it by flashing his car headlights on and off in a random manner, something that he remembered from the movie, "Close Encounters or a third Kind". As he did so, its outside lights came on and flashed back at him in the same pattern and sequence that he was using. The lights were white and very bright curving and encompassing the bottom front of the craft just below what appeared to be a curving disk. They did this for a few minutes and remembered that he smile a little. He shut his lights off and it did so almost immediately after. A few seconds later it shut off its interior lights and everything was pitch black again. He could hear no sound whatsoever if the craft flew away or just disappeared. There were no other people around to witness the event.

The owner of a house in the O'Higgins neighborhood was awakened by the ruckus of the chickens she kept in a cage in her backyard. When she went out to check the problem, four creatures confronted her. The creatures were apparently trying to open the birdcage, and were working in unison. The beings were about 4-feet tall and hairy in appearance. Two of the creatures worked to open the cage while the other two stood and watch. Overcoming her fear she grabbed a club and tried to scatter the creatures away. But these simply ignored her, and ran by her so quickly that they seemed to be gliding. She felt a rush of air as they went by. She screamed for her husband, but as he ran out of the house he could find any trace of the creatures. They had apparently vanished into thin air. Inside the chicken cage they found six

The witness, Daniel, was in a field during a festival called "Summer dreaming" when he apparently went into a sort of altered states consciousness. At that time he saw a figure of a Japanese appearing woman with short hair, who was looking into a mirror and teasing the witness. The figure appeared to have been some sort of projection or holographic image. The figure went on to morph into several shapes in a terminator like sequence it seemed to morph into the ground and become a lizard-like creature as well as other shapes, including a figure resembling the Indian God Ganesha, also a large and ominous looking toy-like figure, which had big white eyes with puppet-like pupils protruding from itself and a short of gray fat stubby creature, which just seemed to sit around and enjoy the proceedings and nod it's head. The witness could not get close to the entity and when he attempted to it would take on an appearance that would make him feel nervous or silly. The whole experience lasted about 20 minutes. Shortly afterwards he walked into an adjacent field and noticed several short gray humanoid creatures marching out of the forest in rows of two. Their appearance, in the witness consciousness, appeared to reveal the three dimensional shapes as a sort of distorted vision wherever their bodies were supposed to be, sort of like looking through a frosted shower screen. As they marched out into the open field, the witness decided to follow them as they split up, at this time the witness followed one particular into the crowd and noticed that it began morphing into a human shape eventually becoming a normal human being who then went on to sit with a group of people around a fire. He also noticed that one or two others of the marching creatures did the same thing, morphing themselves into normal human bodies. Three friends, including Ingrid Amalia Sperberg and Patricio Vallejos Tapia had parked in the outskirts of the city at a popular sightseeing spot in order to see the nearby lights of Angol. They exited the vehicle and walked to the nearby viewing area. There they saw a bright white light rising vertically about 150 meters away. The light then hovered close to the ground and seemed to open up like a fan, exhibiting orange, yellow, red and finally a light violet color. It illuminated everything 40 meters around. As the light began moving, one of the witnesses became frightened and walked back to the car. The interior lighting of the vehicle seemed to be inoperative. The light then seem to close upon itself transforming into a small white sphere, it then disappeared behind some nearby hills. At this point two of the witnesses began hearing a loud "bell" like sound that repeated itself with certain frequency. As the witnesses, one inside the vehicle, two outside, pondered what they were witnessing, one of them heard a sound similar to something metallic being dragged on the ground. Looking in the direction of the sound, they saw two short dark colored figures about 4-feet tall, approaching a nearby metal fence door. According to the witnesses the beings resembled dark shadowy forms, and no facial features could be seen. Interestingly the figures seemed to be "crawling" or dragging themselves on the ground. The metallic sound could still be heard, and one of the figures seemed to be carrying two metallic staffs. The two figures stopped at the entrance to the fence, and then one of them passed through the gate and after a few moments went back outside. Both figures now began dragging themselves away from the area. One of the witnesses then went to the car and was able to turn on the high beams in order to get a better look at the beings, but these had already disappeared. Two of the witnesses reported that the beings seemed to communicate with each other by using a bizarre high-pitched unintelligible murmur. During the encounter they noticed a peculiar odor in the area resembling burnt cable. Also they felt a sort of heat wave as the figures approached their location.

The witness, Jim Law, had been diagnosed with an Inguinal Hernia back in November 2000 and was scheduled to undergo surgery on February 23 2001. However about a week or so before the surgery date he awoke in the middle of the night with a strong feeling that something or someone other than his girlfriend was in his room. He was in a half-sleep heightened state of consciousness and aware of what was going on. He had recently read several books on UFOs and extraterrestrials and read somewhere that if you don't want to be bothered (abducted) to envision a bright white light and "they" will go away. (He had been involved in other experiences in the past 5 years). In his mind he saw three figures. He pictured them as gray colored with big almond shaped eyes, the typical thing that many abductees report seeing. They enter the room apparently through the wall. At first he was startled, but got a grip on his feelings, slowed his heart rate. He told them if they wish to continue visiting me, then they needed to do something for him or he would make them go away. He thinks they understood what he meant. They or one of them said to him, "we know of the condition you have a concern about and will help you." One of them pointed a shiny object about a foot long at the area of his hernia. He didn't remember feeling anything. He did remember asking them why they visited him like this. They or one of them said, "We are interested in you because you have a genetic potential to live a long time." (The witness grandfather 'at the time' was a very healthy 106 years old. Born in 1898 he has lived in three centuries and works out in the yard every day, walks without a cane, and looks better than most 80 year olds. In fact the witness was writing a book about him titled "Living beyond 100". Apparently the witness was cured of the hernia and after three physicals it had never returned. He feels that these particular beings are desperately trying to hybridize a race that will be compatible with the environment here on Earth. They destroyed their own planet a long time ago, and are a dying race. They abduct humans and enacted this program many years ago with the consent of our government. (The witness will have several other experiences).

A 38-year old long distance truck driver, Paul Ryan had stopped in the middle of the night at a rest stop and had gotten up late at night in order to use the toilet and have a smoke. Still very sleepy he noticed a bright light over to his left over a nearby hill. He thought it was just a truck with unusually bright lights and went back to sleep. Sometime later he suddenly woke up unable to move, it felt as if something was covering his whole body, the more he attempted to move the tighter the covering became. He remembered floating up and then falling sleep again. Later he woke up again, he could not open his eyes but there appeared to have been something over his eyes that enable him to see, diagrams, star charts and some sort of strange writing as well as strange symbols. He also felt something or somebody probing his stomach and head area. In his mind he heard somebody say, "If we give him any more we could kill him." He managed to open his eyes and noticed what appeared to be a transparent plastic bubble that was apparently wrapped around him. At this point he noticed about several humanoids standing very close to him, staring at him. He described them as about 4ft 4 inches tall, with gray-green leathery skin, large black eyes and small mouths with long skinny flat noses. They wore some sort of uniform, which he could not see any additional details of. He was in some sort of room lying on some type of examination table. There was one humanoid on his left that had long skinny fingers. Their bodies were thin, looking somewhat emaciated. The one to his left appeared to be a female that was apparently in charge of the "operation". Terrified the witness managed to jump up and broke through the plastic bubble covering and grabs one of the humanoids by its throat. Several of the other humanoids came running towards him and grabbed him, he could hear telepathic messages telling him that he would not be harmed. He began to feel groggy and soon fell asleep again. His next memory was of waking up in the truck's cab and seeing a bright diamond shaped craft with red, green and blue lights flying away from the area. He heard another telepathic message telling him to go back to sleep, which he apparently did.

16-year old Jose and three friends had gone fishing at a lake about 3 miles from their home. On the way to the lake, they chatted about everyday things after a couple of hours they reached the lake. Unfortunately the wind was still blowing strongly, and the dark lake rolled with violent waves that lashed the rocky shore ferociously. After walking around for about an hour looking a spot they finally found a perfect spot when a gust of wind struck them so violently that Jose and another of the boys were knocked from their feet. Jose's head struck a boulder behind him and he clearly felt the back of his head getting wet. He reached back and touched it, and was surprised to find no blood. He asked one of his friends if he could blood, but he answered that Jose wasn't. No trace of blood could be found. Strangely the back of his head still felt wet. Later they caught some fish and ate their lunch. The wind made it impossible to start a fire. As the sun began hiding behind the gray, desolate clouds and the mountains they decided to head for home. They packed their gear and began the 3-mile hike back home. Jose's head still felt wet and he was not feeling well and despite Jose's request they decided to take a shorter more remote road instead of the longer visible road. They continued and came to a small hill. They climbed it and saw, at the bottom of the hill on the other side, a man. He was lying on the ground, motionless. Fearing the worst, the boys rushed over to see how he was. He appeared to be dead, and his body even began to emit a repulsive odor. He looked old, about five feet tall and was dressed formally. They speculated that he had been murdered and his body placed there. It was then that Jose felt someone touching the back of his head and a strong gust of wind blew. The old man suddenly opened his eyes. They looked orange or red orange, and they seemed to cry blood. He blinked two times and opened his mouth, filling the cold air with an unworldly stench. The back of Jose's head seemed wet now, even wetter than before, but he still could not feel any blood. Jose and his friends began to run from the area. It now began to rain and it was very cold. They boys kept running confused and frightened. One of the boys shouted, "It's coming this way!" Jose turned around and saw the blazing eyes of the little man "floating" at them like headlights. Jose tripped and fell again, but his friends kept running. Terrified he curled up on the ground, closed his eyes and began grabbing stones. He felt the strong wind and rain hit his back. He gathered enough strength to look and saw nothing. Meanwhile his friends had stopped about 100 meters ahead, had turned and were shouting at him in a panic. He stood up and just as he lifted his head, his eyes met the staring red eyes of the old man. Jose now was paralyzed and stood there gazing at the strange figure. His eyes then appeared to look to the side, as if pointing at something. The little man pointed to Jose's right and he began slowly walking in that direction. His eyes now seemed more normal in appearance. Jose walked after this "man" for some minutes. He stopped and pointed at the lake. He looked back at Jose, just as the rain was stopping and the wind settled to a breeze. Jose felt an arm touch his back, and then pushed him so hard that he fell and then fainted. When Jose woke up, he was in the hospital with second-degree burns. The pain was intolerable and the doctors could not explain how he had been burned. He was told that a hunter had found him on the mountain more than eight miles from the lake. The hunter claimed he had seen a metal disc in the air, hovering and then disappearing over the horizon. Then he found Jose, who had signs of strange cuts, as if from knives, and he had a wound on his chest, as if he had undergone surgery. His friends claimed they ran off when they saw the shiny eyes and then a mirror-like reflection of shiny metal on the lakeshore. Their parents ignored them when they told them what had happened.

A British naturalist and some of his colleagues were conducting some research in the area after being notified by a local of "something" strange that was seen earlier on the year. As they stood at the edge of some woods by a quarry they suddenly spied an extraordinary entity. Measuring 2.5 ft or so in length, it resembled a serpentine dragon with four short limbs, but its head was shaped very like that of a sea horse, and it was airborne---undulating and wriggling as it flew about 10 ft above the surface of the quarry in a wide circle. They were unable to recall seeing any wings, but it had a long tail that terminated in a pair of horizontal, whale like flukes. The entity was green in color and shimmered somewhat, but appeared solid, not translucent or ethereal, and they watched it for 3-4 minutes, at a distance of approximately 50 ft, before it finally vanished into one of the numerous caves and large crevices pitting the quarry. The naturalist had the distinct impression while watching it that this creature was deliberately seeking to keep them at bay, warning them off from approaching further into its territory.

Pauline Darcy Roger who lived on 236th Street on a building that overlooked a parking lot and another building a half block away one night was admiring the sky when she saw three objects hovering near the chimney of the nearby building. The objects resembled glowing discs. As she kept watching them they were simply hovering and after a while one of them suddenly vanished. Then one of the two that were left entered the brick chimney from the side and came out of the other side where the other UFO hovered. They then began performing a seesaw maneuver balancing side-to-side and moving slowly towards the witness window. Feeling frightened she left the window and went into her bedroom. The next night she went back to the window around the same time and sure enough the three objects were there again. They were moving slowly back and forth before the chimney in a follow the leader fashion. Still frightened, however she remained at the window. It was then that she heard a strange sound, something like a humming and suddenly realized that the sound was in her head. The humming grew louder and gradually became higher in pitch until it became unbearable. Distraught she thought that it was too high and too loud and that it must stop. No sooner had she thought of that it abruptly stopped. She left the window and went into her bedroom hoping she could sleep. The following night curiosity brought her back to the window, where she saw the UFOs again. This time there was no terrible sound, but to her amazement she heard a male voice in her head. (The witness claims that she had telepathic ability before the encounter). He spoke to her, "You speak English, don't you?" "Answer me" the voice insisted. Very cleverly and using telepathy like they did Pauline answered, "No". She then heard, "Talk to me". She then told them why didn't they go away and stay away. The answer was, "All right. We'll go away." But the UFOs stayed. She walked away from the window and went into the bedroom, hoping they would leave and never return. She tried to sleep but again she heard the humming sound that again escalated into a dreadful high pitch sound that stayed for about 5 minutes. Sometime during the night she heard a young man's voice screaming in anguish, "Help me, help me!" It was so agonizing that she promised never again to go to the window or communicate with the aliens. But when the morning finally came she "heard" a female voice, "What is your name?" It asked. She rushed to the window but there were no UFOs visible. When she repeated the question she thought in the back of her mind Pauline but replied, "Alice". She heard no more until the UFOs returned that night and the man's voice asked "Are you Pauline or Alice?" She deliberately "said" 'Neither'. In an effort to drown them out Pauline then played her favorite tape and concentrated on it. The tape played for five minutes and then abruptly stopped. When silence reigned, the woman's voice said, "That tape won't play anymore." Unnerved the witness decided to find a hotel that night and looked an address and phone number in the phone book and wrote them down, whereupon the man's voice repeated them. She had no choice than to stay in the apartment that night. Back in her bedroom she again heard the young man's voice yelling for help. Then the male voice said, "You can't help him, and we'll contact you tomorrow." She asked them why and for what purpose they were contacting her. The man responded, "We want you." An electric shock that went all through her body followed this, terrified she heard the woman's voice said, and "We'll find you wherever you go." Terrified she tried to dial a cab on her phone but all she heard were strange mechanical noises. Not knowing what to do she ran to a cab across the street and asked to be taken to a hospital where she was given a tranquilizer. She went home that night and was able to sleep. The next day she tried to think of some place where she could go, and decided to go to St. Patrick's Cathedral. As she was walking up the steps she heard the alien voices screaming "Don't go in there! Don't go in." She went inside and as soon as she did the voices stopped. She stayed in the Cathedral for two hours feeling very peaceful. When she got home that night she still felt peaceful but was dismayed to find the UFOs hovering outside again. But everything was quiet and she simply stood by the window watching them. As she wondered why they were so silent one the UFOs approached her window. Her next memory was of sitting on her couch her clothes in disarray, she could not remember how she got there and when she looked at the clock it was midnight. She went to the windows and the UFOs were gone and have never returned again.

The witness was watching television on this Sunday evening when she heard something strike the roof, the side facing the lake. The noise caused an immediate reaction on the dogs, two small ones inside, and several larger ones outside, they began to howl and barking nonstop. After 5 minutes the curious witness went outside to the terrace and turned on the outside lights. She immediately noticed that one of the dogs was barking loudly and looking at a nearby clump of trees. She then noticed some lights over the trees. The lights were very intense, yellow and phosphorescent. The lights were set horizontally as in a helicopter. Her first thought was that of a neighbor who lived in the opposite shore and visited at times in a helicopter. Therefore she looked at the other side of the lake and at that moment she saw a second craft or what she termed a "mothership", an enormous one, hovering over the lake surface emitting a light bluish glow. The smaller craft still hovered above the trees, but without stirring the upper quite fragile tree branches, both were totally silent. She ran into the house and immediately called her husband who was already home at the time. She told him what she had seen and he asked her to gather other witnesses, but only two other witnesses were available, two Ukrainians working for the couple. Her husband and the two other witnesses then watched the crafts, as the first witness grabbed a pair of binoculars and watched the crafts move very slowly towards the other side of the lake. The smaller craft was moving very slowly horizontally and vertically, at times shining a beam of yellow light towards the ground. The smaller craft was over the ground while the larger one moved above the lake surface. At that moment her husband asked her to signal the crafts with a flashlight, which she did, making several symbols with the light. Both objects then seemed to reverse direction and move towards them. The large one came over the lake and hovered above some nearby trees for 15-20 minutes. They were able to see it clearly; it was round, shaped like a birthday cake, like a dish placed over a saucer. There were windows on the craft and areas between the windows which were silvery metallic in color. They could see a total of 7 windows. On top of the windows just under the ceiling shone two red lights which pulsed. The surface of the craft was smooth; there were no protuberances on it. In the middle section of the craft there was a band emanating a dim blue light, the same dim blue light came out of the windows. Nothing more was visible inside the windows.

The return of the crafts caused the witnesses to panic. The smaller craft was about 30-40 meters away emitting a bright yellow beam of light towards the ground. Inside the beam of light there appeared to be a dark cloaked figure about 1.5-2m in height in the shape of a keyhole. This occurred twice and caused one of the Ukrainians to leave the terrace. At this point the neighbors approached in their vehicle and the objects began to move back towards the lake. The large craft rose up and then seemed to descend on the other side of the forest. The small object remained in the area shining the beam of light towards the ground on several occasions, each time this one done a humanoid figure was seen inside. Later the witnesses checked the area where the beam had shone but did not find anything. Finally at around 2200 the objects disappeared. The main witness's computer monitor would not work after the incident and she was told that the damage was done by a very strong magnetic field. They were told that a similar object had been seen above Balmutow.

Five witnesses, Paola Benavides, 31, Jorge Eduardo Benavides (her twin brother) 31, Ximena Eugenia Rivero, 32, Jose Alejandro Benavides, 33, his wife Gilda Ana Cardenas, 31, Margarita Chavez, 56 and Javier Adolfo Gomez, 15 had traveled to this scenic lookout area and had parked their vehicles in an area paralleled to the road overlooking Angol. After a-while the group began to notice strange round red lights similar to flashlights hovering at the end of the path about 80meters away at about half light pole height. The lights seemed to flicker on and off. The group tried to see if there was anyone there holding the lights but they did not see anybody. Moments later the group saw three tall human-like figures coming down the road at about 30 meters away. The three seemed to walk in rhythm and would lift their arms up in sequence. Each figure had a small round red light on one of their hands. The strange trio approached to within 3 meters of the group. At this point the witnesses noticed that the entities wore two-piece loose fitting dark clothing with hoods, all three had a gray phosphorescent line around the waist area. The entity in the center had two round red lights, one in its hand and the other in the area where the mouth would have been. The witnesses only saw the entities in profile and at no time did these turn around to look at the witnesses, they could not see their facial features. They seemed unable to move their left arm and it remained static on their sides. The witnesses estimated their height to have been about 1.80m. As the strangers passed by in front of the group one of the witnesses yelled at them, but these completely ignored the witnesses and kept on walking. However at a distance of about 4 meters from the witnesses the trio suddenly stopped and seemed to “huddle” together. At this point some of the witnesses overheard the strangers speaking in a normal tone but in an unknown language. At this point the witnesses had become extremely nervous. Moments later using exact movements as if rehearsed the trio turned around and walked back in the same manner and in the same direction they had come from originally. The witnesses could clearly hear their footsteps and could see the three entities raising their right arm with the red light in perfect synchronized movements. Terrified the witnesses could only watch as the group again returned and passed in front of them one more time before heading in the direction where the vehicles were parked, once by the vehicles the trio seemed to have suddenly vanished in plain sight. According to the witnesses there wasn't any place where the strangers could have gone to so suddenly, they had simply vanished. Still feeling afraid the witnesses got into their vehicles and quickly drove away from the area.

Two students, Jack Wright and Veronica Stevens were crossing their college campus after leaving a party when a bright shaft of light suddenly appeared out of nowhere and blocked their path. It resembled a hologram of an elevator shaft. Before they could react they were sucked into the shaft and transported into a hovering craft. Veronica's next recollection was of lying naked, seemingly floating in mid-air. Strange beings, described as short with gray skin, elongated heads, large black eyes and no hair were moving around her. She noticed Jack lying next to her and also being probed by the aliens. Wright recalls being naked and the strange beings shining a bright light into his eyes. He was being poked and prodded. The beings touched his genitals and he felt something being inserted through the head of his penis. He was unable to move as the beings apparently pulled something out of his anus. Veronica was being treated the same way next to him. He recalled seeing flat discs about the size of saucers being balanced on Belmont's breasts. Once they were in place, wrapped around her breasts they were vacuum molded and appear to inflate. One of the beings inserted a three-fingered hand into her vagina. At this point several more beings entered the room and appeared to observe the procedures. According to both witnesses their bodies were positioned in a way that they were pushed and forced to perform intercourse. Belmont remembered seeing an instrument she dubbed a “light wand” being passed over her entire body from head to toe. Several aliens then arrived and continued to examine her vagina. Suddenly both witnesses found themselves standing in the same spot, fully clothed. Both were disoriented and confused, they embraced and walked back to Belmont's apartment.

A local man named Alexander was having trouble sleeping when suddenly a bright light flashed in his room. Surprised he jumped from bed and saw that the light was coming from a fiery globe-shaped object and inside he could see a vaguely humanoid shape began to take form. The light gradually began to dim and now he could see a humanoid entity encased in a dim glow. The figure was that of a friendly smiling young man. At this point the man felt enveloped in total bliss like "flying in the clouds" but suddenly a terrible thought entered his brain that maybe he was dead and in heaven and that the mysterious visitor was an angel, coming to take him to heaven. Alexander then turned around and to his horror saw himself (or body) lying on bed. He was now convinced that he was gone. He turned around to face his "sky visitor" who was now stretching his hand and saying "Hello, brother!" "Hello" answered the witness, slightly stuttering from fear. When the witness touched the stranger's hand he felt a slight electrical discharge. The visitor looked like a young man about 30 years of age, of average height, robust built, with black, trimmed hair, and brown eyes. He was dressed in a white long shirt without a collar. On the chest area he had a symbol shaped like a purple heart, and inside it there was a circle and another circle of white color. He had a purple sash around his waistband decorated by a golden edge. Noticing the witness concern, the visitor attempted to calm him down. "Don't be afraid, brother! You are not dead. Simply your soul has temporarily left your perishable body. You are now in the astral world". Alexander calmed down somewhat but remained worried as to who the visitor was and why he had come. As if reading his thoughts the visitor answered, "I am RAM, a warrior from Ra-light, I was sent to your planet in a mission, its aim to help humanity make the transition and to eliminate evil on Earth". Suddenly he raised his hands upwards a bright beams of light began shooting out from the tip of his fingers, the light beams assumed the shape of "swords", which emitted a bright white light. The alien then said, "With these swords, me and my brothers and sisters----are fighting evil in the Universe. One sword is universal love, the second, universal wisdom, which was given to us by the Sun God RA, the God of Love and father and mother of the Universe." The swords then suddenly vanished from his hands. He then placed his palms on his chest and took a slight bow. Then he continued, "Brother! You must not be afraid of me because I come in peace. I need your help. I see by your aura that you are a kind man, and that you have a kind heart and a pure soul. I want to transmit my message to the other earthlings through you, first of all to all the Russians living in the sacred "Ra-land". Though I could do that myself, since I am a man just like you and I live on earth I am prohibited from doing it, since no one must know about me before the proper time." He pointed towards the sofa and sat on the armchair saying, "Now I will speak about the message in detail. Be attentive to my words; ask questions if there is something you don't understand. I will try to tell you everything clearly and briefly."

First I will tell you about us, we are the warriors of Ra-light, we call our planet RAi" (paradise in Russian) which is located far from here, in the Pleiades system in the Taurus constellation. 35 thousand years ago our civilization the same situation that the Earth finds itself now, the upcoming and fiery transition into the fourth dimension. Our planet is now in the fifth dimension. We don't have evil, illnesses, hunger, misery or death. Love reigns in our world. We worship live, and love by its laws, and through it we follow the spiritual way of the Creator of the Universe. Our main aim is the spiritual self-improving and help in the spiritual development of others, especially to those who now live in the 3rd dimensional world, where is evil is rampant in self-destructive ways. An example of that trend is your civilization, especially in the last century. We don't have states, arms, money, prisons and other attributes of the realm of evil or the realm of the three-headed Black Dragon, which are, ignorance, violence and hatred. We don't have the technology in our world that pollutes and destroys the environment. We live in union with our planet, with the nature that surrounds us. Now, difficult times are ahead for humans. But because of our sympathy toward humanity and by the call of "Bog" of the Sun Ra, father and mother of the Universe we come to you to help. Many of us have now become embodied on earth. We have the same flesh as you. In Revelation of St John the Divine, 144,000 righteous men wearing white clothing and with signs on their brows were given the blessing and the force of the Creator to eliminate evil on Earth. Those 144,000 men are the 144,000 warriors of Light, many of them are representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations. We are the warriors of Ra-Light are part of this army, and the majority of my brothers and sister are here in Russia. Our main aim is the purification of the aura of earth from the forces of evil. We are astral warriors and our battles will occur in the astral world. When people sleep, we fight."

"And who are the forces of evil"? Asked Alexander

"The Forces of evil are the astral creatures, which are sometimes called psychic vampires, which feed on the dark, negative energy which is emanated from those under the dominion of vile motives and passions. The forces of evil have their hierarchy. I must add that those astral creatures cannot be called alive since they have no souls. They are separated from the top level and the lower level. For example the main aggregate of the forces of evil on earth is Satan. We call him the Black Dragon. He lives depending on humans feeding on their evil thoughts, deeds and words and also by those who consciously worship him. If all the humans on earth would stop creating evil, Satan would stop living since he will have no food to feed on. These astral creatures, just like fungi spores traveled through the Universe. If conditions for appearance and development of evil appear in some civilization, these spores will penetrate their world and rotting, decomposition and destruction of spiritual and moral values of the society begins. Whenever the realm of evil appears, everywhere its 3 basic qualities are displayed, ignorance, violence and hatred. Looking at the Earth's aura from outside, it is filled with dark gray tones, which are dominant, only sometimes are there fiery flashes of bright-white or blue color that appear. Those are the warriors of Light fighting the forces of Evil in the astral world".

"And when do such battles occur?" asked Alexander.

The basic areas of combat are here, over mountains and foothills of the Southern Urals. From here, the forces of light would obtain enough quality astral light warriors and will spread over the whole of Russia and then over the whole planet. Purification of the aura of earth will be the important act of saving humanity and Earth from self-destruction, when the forces of evil are less on earth in the days of the fiery christening, more people will be saved".

"What awaits humanity in the future?" asked Alexander

"A very small amount of time if left for humanity before Doomsday, among all the supposed dates for Judgment Day, the closest of all the dates is the one calculated by the priests of the ancient Mayas and Aztecs that lived in the epoch before Columbus in Central America, they called the day, The Day of the Fifth Sun---April 23 2012."

"And what is the Fifth Sun?"

"That is your Sun which has the quality to emit in some definite period of time, shedding bright light into space. Your scientists call the flashing sequence "pulsars". At the moment of such flashes your Sun emanates a huge quantity of solar energy that causes serious changes in the whole Solar system. The next flash in the history of the earth will be the fifth flash (therefore Fifth Sun). During such global changes the transition of races occurs, instead of the old race a new one will appear. After the fiery Christening, or transformation and transition to the 4th dimension, the 6th race will appear which will be a race of semi-Gods and Christ-like men. Every one of you will become a Christ! On our planet, Semi Gods are called the sons and daughters of RA. That was name given before by the ancient Pharaohs of Egypt. Not only your earth will transit to the 4th dimension, but the entire Solar system and will become a full-value member of the commonwealth of 7 star systems that join the Pleiades system. Your planet will be the next city of light, from where the Light of Wisdom and love would emanate to the whole Galaxy. Like us, you will be helping the other civilizations in their evolutionary and spiritual development.

"But do the modern scientists know about the existence of the Pleiades system?"

Yes, but they see the stars only inhabiting the third dimension, but there are star systems and even whole Galaxies in the Universe that are located in the 4th, 5th and 6th dimension. You don't see us the same way you don't see the astral and spiritual worlds that surround you. You are only capable of capturing radio waves and that is why your scientists frequently confused are star systems with "black holes".

"What does the notion of a black hole mean"?

Black holes are vacuums or depositories where huge quantities of Universal matter are stored in the 1st and 2nd dimensions. That is why you don't see the black holes, as well as us. We call them "The Womb of the Mother Universe", because within them the conception and development occurs and the Galaxies are born in there. Also your scientists do not know about the existence of the Central Sun of the Universe located in the highest or 8th dimension. They concentrate on the powerful space emanation, emanating from the center of the Universe, erroneously believing that it is a rudimentary relict emission. The Universe is eternal, it was never born and it will never die.

"Can you be more specific about the Central Sun of the Universe"?

The Central Sun of the Universe has many divine attributes, signs and names. For example, Christians call it the Sky father, Muslims, the Allah, Buddhists, the Absolute Nirvana, Hindus, and Brama. We call the Creator, the Gun of Sun Ra, and Sun of Love. His sign is known to you from a long time back, since the times of ancient Egypt. RAM then put his right hand to his breast, pointing to his purple heart, and indicated that it was the sign of the Sun-Love. RAM then asked, "In your world what is the image of the creator? Alexander thought for a while and then said, "Maybe the man that is written about in the Bible". RAM answered, "Like many, you seek the answers written in that book; blindingly believing that it is the absolute truth, not a man, but your Sun is the image and likeness to the Creator."

RAM unexpectedly stood up and walked up to the wall saying, "Come with me" Alexander walked up to him, Ram took his left hand, "Now we will come through this wall". Alexander could not believe that possible and refuse to believe in the idea. Seeing his indecision RAM decided to dispel his fear, "Don't be afraid, brother, because now you are in the astral body, which has the ability to move through anything, Look! and he began entering the wall. Only his hand was left, holding to Alexander's arm. Alexander then followed him and appeared in the street, not knowing how. Despite the cold weather outside, Alexander did not feel any discomfort. It was a clear night with bright stars.

"Do you know where the Polar star is?" Asked RAM.

"Yes I Know. There is the Big Bear and there is the small one. At the end of the dipper a bright star shines, that is the Polar Star.

"Good, you know the astronomical base, and where is the Constellation of Lyra?"

"I don't know", Look there, RAM pointed with his hand at a cluster of stars. You see that bright star" That is Vega. Now make a straight line from your Polar Star to Vega. In the middle of that line is the center of the Universe, the dwelling place of our Creator. You see this imaginary dot in the sky is encircled by a system of stars looking like a snake? That is the Constellation of Draco. Now, can you find the center of the Universe yourself? "Yes I can" answered Alexander.

They stood for about 5 minutes enjoying the night sky. RAM then told Alexander that it was time to return. They again walked through the wall. Alexander sat on the sofa and RAM on the chair and they continued their conversation. RAM started, "If you have any questions, please ask"

"Have you visited our planet before"?

"If you studied the history of humanity you must know that the Sun God RA was the main God of ancient Egypt, and that is not a coincidence. 7000 years ago in the valley of the Nile, tall people with light skin appeared among the dark skinned indigenous people of short height, which lived as hunters, fishing and fruit gatherers. They called themselves the sons and daughters of RA. Those were representatives of our civilization. On a commission from the Sun God Ra they were sent to your planet with a definite mission...to create a highly developed civilization in the fertile Nile valley. At first it was difficult to find a common language with the terrestrials, but gradually they began accommodating to each other. Then closer contacts began. My brothers and sisters began teaching the people to work the land, growing grains and baking bread. After fulfilling their mission, my brothers and sister left the earth. Only their offspring were left, the children born to them, embodying the souls of terrestrials that created the first state in the history of the Earth.

"Was Egypt really the first state?" asked Alexander.

"Yes and now representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations live on your planet, in outer appearance they don't differ from you, but in spiritual development they surpass you. In the meantime, most of them do not realize that they are visitors from Space, because the access of information about their past lives is closed to them. They feel themselves torn from their native world and when they feel good they frequently look at the stars, attempting to find their "motherland" among the blinking stars. And now I am searching for those lonely persons that have become warriors of Light to fight Evil. Their mission was to save you (Earth) when they left their native planets. Using this occasion I want to convey the message to the warriors of light through you, my brother". (Ram then dictated a long message, mostly about Universal Love, etc". Long live the Love! After those words the light again began shining on the chest of Ram, filling the whole room with bright light. Ram stood up from the armchair and approached the witness. "Sorry brother but it's time for me to go. We will have to say goodbye. But if you want I can return." "Yes I want you to", exclaimed Alexander. "So see you around" and RAM shook Alexander's hand, RAM then turned around and approached the window. He looked at the night sky and then at the witness. He waved his hand farewell and suddenly flying through the ceiling, vanished. Alexander then suddenly awoke from a trance-like state and opened his eyes. He looked at the clock on the wall and it read 0100A. He thought everything had just been a dream but he wrote to the local newspaper about what had occurred.

Vinicius Da Silva and Marta Rosenthal were returning home from a day of fishing in the River Tocantis when they felt a bump in one of the tires. Thinking he had a flat Vinicius stopped the vehicle and went to check. He could not find anything wrong with the tire but suddenly heard Marta screaming and saw her pointing to the right side of the road. There, only a few meters away, hovering over the water was a metallic object with small windows along its edge. Standing outside the object on a ledge was a humanoid figure of about 1.30 meters in height. The figure was holding something resembling a hose and was apparently sucking water from the river and into the craft. After about two minutes the humanoid pulled up the hose from the river and re-entered the object. The craft then became very bright and shot away horizontally into the sky.

The 20-year old witness and her boyfriend were lying in bed, him facing away from her on his side, already asleep, she was lying on her back, almost asleep on the right side of the bed. She was in that half-awake-half sleep state, where you begin to drift off but was still conscious of things around you. Suddenly she felt her hand being played with. It felt like someone was holding her hand like a gentleman does when he kisses a lady's hand. Whoever had her hand was lifting her arm up off the bed and was caressing or petting the top of her hand. It was slightly annoying, as she was trying to sleep, and she was thinking that she was going to 'smack' her bedmate because she thought he was playing a prank. So she opened her eyes, saw that held her hand screamed and passed out. There were two very tall (at least 6 feet tall) 'aliens' flanking her bed, one on his side, one on mine. Her child's father was fast asleep and her scream did not waken him. So she thinks that the aliens had kept him asleep somehow. The alien on her side had her hand in both of his and he was bending over her and just staring at her with two huge black eyes. The aliens had huge hairless ovoid heads, just nostrils for a nose and large diamond shaped black eyes and no discernable ears. They wore floor length robes with what looked like a maroon paisley design on them. She saw all of this before she passed out. She slept the whole night through, something she never does and had dreams of being chased by aliens all night. The next morning she awoke rather refreshed, which is odd. She took a shower and her boyfriend was up watching television when she came into the bedroom and told him about her 'dream' last night, her boyfriend believed her since he claims he has had previous alien contacts, and actually believes he is part alien (Starseed). She took the towel off her head and began combing her wet hair and nearly had a coronary at what she found. She had straight black hair down to her waist, and she found on one single hair, seven yellow stripes of identical size and placement. She had not been near any paint for as long as she could remember and these stripes were applied with such precision that she believes that no human hand could have done it. She yanked the hair and showed to her boyfriend who paled and told her that that hair was identical to hairs that he and a friend had found on their heads after their alien encounters. She still has the hair. She taped it to a piece of black paper so the stripes are easily visible and preserved and she keeps it under lock and key. She has not had any additional encounters.

The witness, Jim, suddenly woke up to see a tall being resembling a “praying mantis” and another cloaked being standing by the side of his bed. The cloaked being looked at the witness from beneath his hood revealing its black skin, which appeared leathery and reflecting light much like a beetles skin. The witness shut his eyes thinking it was a realistic dream but when he opened them again the two strange figures were still there. The cloaked figure looked up to the tall praying mantis as if it was confused as to what actions it should take next. The praying mantis turned its head towards the hooded humanoid and made a series of high-pitched clicking sounds. The witness sensed that he was the one in command, possibly the other was some type of guard. The praying mantis type creature was at least 7 ft tall; it had to bend its neck because of the height of the ceiling. Its head was pointed with large eyes. Its forearms were extremely long and moved in a jerky fashion. The cloaked figure was closer, crouching by the bed, so the witness could not tell how tall it was, but he could clearly see that it was wearing some kind of overlapping ridged armor, including a metallic looking breastplate that had a series of circles on it. Its head was dome-like with emotionless facial features. Its eyes were large and surrounded again by detailed ridges. It acted in a way that reminded the witness of a robot or insect. At this point the praying mantis bent its upper body over the witness bed and directly above him. In its hand it was holding a long metal object that looked like a needle. A green light shone directly from the needle and into the witness right eye. It felt very painful. The witness attempted to scream but nothing came out. He then felt something stick into his skull, he closed his eyes and then heard a great whooshing sound and when he next opened his eyes the two creatures were gone.

Elena Drozdova was at home when she felt uneasy and felt compelled to walk outside the house. Once outside, she suddenly she saw a globe-shaped object of a light green color, an incomparably beautiful sight. Seemingly the light illuminated everything around it. Not far from the object she noticed an orange haze. She felt a strange sense of peace and tranquility and still some uneasiness. She was able to move but she chose to stay put where she was, evidently under some type of calming mental pressure. Soon the object began to slowly drift away to the northeast. After the encounter it appeared that she had experienced some type of missing time episode and displayed all the symptoms of having been abducted and her memory erased. Moreover it appears that she had been a victim of abductions since her early childhood. She experienced strong ringing in her ears and a groundless fear which she was unable to explain. Frequently at nights while in a deep sleep or in a half-dream, she felt that her body hovered over the bed and then it would sharply drop down. She would always awaken with a rapid heart beat. She became very afraid to be in enclosed places like elevators and such. Recently around 2002 or 2003 doctors removed a fatty tumor (lymphoma) from the back of her neck. After a medical examination the doctors told her that the tumor was unusual. During the operation the doctors had removed a tiny device shaped like the letter "T" from the witness neck. The doctors theorized that it was some kind of splinter from some type of "metal mechanism" which was lodged in her neck during an accident. However the witness does not remember such an episode. Unfortunately there is no information as to her hypnotic regression and no information that the implant was "studied".

A witness named Mrs. Ewa reported numerous bizarre contacts and experiences, her father had taken photos of 2 UFO crafts which were taken during a series of strange and unusual "dreams" or state of minds that Mrs. Ewa experienced. Moreover there also appeared strange physical marks of unknown origin on her legs and strange feelings like vibrations, numbness, etc. Furthermore the witness experienced periods of missing time one which was over 4 hours in length. In one of her dream-like states she remembers being in her house which somehow looked different and standing by a large window accompanied by an unknown man, she looked up at the sky and saw several strange crafts coming closer. The crafts are bullet-shaped, blackish-silver in color and covered with red symbols. She knew that these were "evil craft" and hid behind the curtain. She and her companion are afraid since they knew that the craft were not of this Earth. Suddenly she is no longer afraid and wants to go outside. The house is situated on a hill near a forest. Outside there are others including her friend, Andrzej. They are now observing a disc that is approaching their location, it is ellipsoidal and shines with an intense silvery white light. She is very "happy" that the UFO is heading towards them. She wants to meet with the crew of the craft and walks down to the bottom of the hill. She is now walking alone toward the lake, the others are apparently afraid and do not accompany her. The disc is getting closer and is getting smaller and smaller. When the disc is close to Mrs. Ewa is about 0.6m in diameter. It is emitting a pleasant white light. She is stretching her arms, not knowing why, and the disc is landing on her hands. At the same moment she notices another disc that had landed next to the lakeshore. She is now standing next to that craft which is floating just above the lake surface. The dome of the object is almost in front of her, it is almost transparent shining with a white-silvery light. A door materializes on the right side of the dome and she approaches it. Soon she is inside the object inside a small room with transparent walls. There are several other women, about her age standing in front of her, another one sat next to her and there is another standing next to her which the witness couldn't see very well. On the left side of the room, in the upper section there is a small screen. Symbols and numbers of all kinds appear on it, she sees something that resembles mathematical equations. She begins asking numerous questions and receives answers. Fantastic whirling geometrical symbols appear on the screen, there are many colors, and she realizes that she is somehow given access to "great wisdom". The woman sitting next to her grabs her arms and on her other hand she is holding something resembling a silver gun which she places against the witness head behind her ear. The witness feels that she was just given an "implant". Soon she finds herself talking to a man that she doesn't recall his appearance. She asks him if the beings that she has been depicting on her paintings are real, and she is told that they are only her imagination. The man appears upset with her questions and is obviously evasive. There are some other beings around and one of them is drawing her attention. He is very short 1.2m, slim, he is dark complexioned with short dark hair, Asian type, he has strange black extremely expressive eyes. He is dressed in a black tight-fitting suit, with a polo necked sweater. She remembers well his face which increases her anxiety. She also feels the presence of women and now is at the entrance to the UFO.

She then hears metallic voices in her head, she receives a message telling her that this is a form of communication and apparently the implant was now in operation. Suddenly she is outside standing on a flat silver surface, she feels delicate vibrations. There is light around, the sand and lake shore are clearly illuminated. When she "awakes" from her "dream" she tries to document the dream. Months later she experiences another weird "dream", first she gets a terrible headache and falls sleep. In the dream she sees a long and slim arm, robotic in nature, its fingers are set in a way as the children do in a school when they want to answer a question. The hand is heading toward her head, it touches the area where the implant is allegedly located and presses down. The headache then goes away she awakes feeling absolutely no pain. Mrs. Ewa who originally had been a skeptic has a further vision in which she is standing in the open with her father and Andrzej watching a small hole in the clouds, round in shape. Then two small black aircrafts appeared on the sky background, they are coming down very quickly and now they seem to be gigantic, shocked and frightened the small group hides. On December 11 Mrs. Ewa and her husband observed from their house a strange, dark, ellipsoidal cloud, illuminated from below, suddenly they heard the roar of aircraft engines, then an airplane passes overhead only at about 250m altitude over the houses. Also on December 11 a huge "helicopter" was observed in the area. Also on October 24 2003 Mrs. Ewa was at the water reservoir in Mostki-Parszowo with her husband when they saw a cigar-shaped object that then separated into three sections and disappeared within a strange fog.

A man nicknamed "Rafy" reported encountering similar entities or beings at the same location of the summer of 2000 encounter. The entities were several young men, with very pale faces, long black "dirty" hair, but somehow feminine in appearance. This group stood on the pier and was jumping into the water but strangely they did not seem to be hitting the water as they seem to disappear in midair. A taller entity, male like, over 6ft tall, stood watching the scene, as if waiting for the others to finish. Once that occurred this figure also "jumped in" and vanished. The witness did not hear any splashing sounds coming from the water.

Mr. A.J.A. had stepped out of his home to smoke a cigarette in his front yard when he suddenly noticed a figure approaching from his right. At first he thought it was a large owl but as it flew directly in front of him he saw that it was a bizarre creature. As the creature flew close to a nearby light pole the witness noticed that it was a humanoid figure with a very large head, which was wingless and flew at in an even level flight, totally noiselessly. The body was about 1 meter 4cm in length. It appeared to be covered in dark green "matted down" hair. It had a pear shaped head but the witness could not see any eyes. It had long thin arms. As the creature flew in front of the witness about 10 meters away, he felt a cold chill and illogic panic. The creature flew by the light pole and executed a 90-degree turn quickly disappearing from sight. The lights streetlights went out as the creature flew by, they came back on later.

It landed on top of a public light pole. The light fixture dimmed as the creature landed on it; it was to a point where it was almost completely out. One late night he was awakened because he heard his daughter crying, he sat up in bed and to his surprise saw a short being with gray skin and large eyes that fit the description of the beings that people report as alien beings. There were two others at each side of his bed as well. He saw his daughter sitting on her bed and his wife apparently in a deep sleep not waking up. He suddenly felt numbing vibrations aimed at the lower portion of the back of his head, he was convinced that the sensation was some kind of effort to restrain him (he is a martial arts expert). However he was fully awake and was able to move. He then decided to repel the intruders in order to protect his family when he was suddenly incapacitated by a sharp energy shock. It was aimed at his back and was delivered instantly to his spinal cord approximately below his shoulder plate bones. He was immobilized as he fell back on his bed still hearing his daughter crying. The beings then surrounded him and were apparently curious as to how he had been able to resist their first attempt to shut down his motor functions. He was now scared and unable to move. At this point he sees a bright glow in the distance and thinks that it is brush fire, but at the same time notices that the farm animals and dogs seemed nervous. He thinks nothing of it and heads towards the town taking a parallel route to where he had seen in the strange glow. Suddenly he sees three huge "platforms" two of them hovering very close to the ground while the third hovered a little higher. From underneath the object a bright yellow light shone and within that light he could see at least forty other objects of about 10 meters in diameter flying and circling about. Suddenly from one of the flying objects three powerful beams of light shot out illuminating Yuri's vehicle completely. Terrified he stepped on the accelerator and drove towards town. Through the rear passenger window he could now see one of the huge platforms completely illuminated. According to Yuri it resembling "a shiny city in the sky". He stopped at a local bar owned by Domingo Hernandez which was located at the entrance to town and after telling Domingo what he had seen asked Domingo to accompany back to the location. As both men neared the area they could see strange lights hovering over the "Cuellar" farm but the three huge platforms are not present. The men could see that the lights were oval-shaped objects hovering very close to the ground. However as they approached the objects these suddenly blinked out and vanished. Yuri and Domingo then returned to the bar and immediately called the local civil guard unit.

The next morning as the Civil Guard units inspected the area they found at least 40 to 50 strange ground marks (some sources give the number as 200). These marks were holes distributed in an area composed of two hectares which were from 10-25 centimeters in depth and about 8-20 centimeters in diameter. The earth inside the walls of the holes appeared compacted and the earth seemed to have been suctioned out at high speed. The deeper holes appeared to have been made by a twisting or gyrating motion. The police technicians denied that the holes or ground traces were made by any local animals, wild or domesticated.

In the meantime Yuri had to be attended by a local doctor and during the nights he would awake at least five times and would look out the window perhaps hoping to see the strange objects again. Eventually he became an avid UFO student and enthusiast.

She is attracted to a powerful light that seems to emanate from a hole in the sky. She notices that three humanoids floating next to her accompany her into the hole. As she looked down she could see the roof of the house, then the house become smaller and then the city of Rosario itself. As she continued to rise up into the sky she fell asleep again. An intense cold wave woke her up and she heard what sounded like a metallic hatch closing. She noticed that she had entered this location through a hexagonal shaped opening. Everything was dark around her but as her eyesight adjusted to the light she noticed that she was in an immense room with about 20 floating cots all with a human figure on them. The room was extremely cold and she received the impression that she did not want to be there. To her right she noticed her 45-year old sister sleeping on one of the cots she also remembered seeing a black skinned man lying about 4 cots away. All the people lying on the cots appeared to be in a state of animated suspension. All the time in the background she could hear a low steady snoring sound that seemed to be part of some type of mind control procedure. At that point she began to hear what appeared to be low "voices" that spoke very quickly among themselves. Almost at the same time three humanoids approached her, these were about 1.60 meters in height, very thin, with elongated heads, cat-like eyes, and two small holes for noses, hairless, the eyes glowed a blue-gray color. They had three large fingers that appeared to be connected by a membrane and separate finger on the other end. Their bodies were of a beige-pale color and appeared very flexible or gelatinous. They possessed small mouths and what appeared to be a small protuberance on top of their heads. She sensed there were both females and males present but could not see any sexual features. At this point she sensed desperation from the beings as if their time was short and they were unable to reproduce. One of the beings seemed to measure her cranium with a thin tube about 30 cm in length that emitted a beam of light from the tip. As the tube or bar was passed over her head she felt a slight sensation of warmth. She also sensed that the aliens had somehow chosen planet earth for a reproduction staging area, acquiring the necessary materials, which were human bodies of both genders. She could hear other thoughts or speech in her mind and felt that the beings talked about her and about her knowledge. At this point another one of the beings seemed to measure her face from ear to ear at the same time telling her via telepathy that everything was going to be fine. The witness sensed that the aliens needed human bodies as some kind of breeding "container" for their own purposes of survival. Soon the witness became terrified as the three humanoids approached her in an attempt to touch her. She asks them if they are spiritual beings and they answer yes, but she feels it was only an attempt to manipulate her mind. One of the humanoids attempts to touch her breasts but she pushes his arm aside and notices that it has a gummy texture with no bone structure. She learned that the beings were looking for humans that would be good "sperm carriers" or Sementhalers. She also learned that these beings were able to manipulate light in a way that they could use it as a solid matter. On her descend back to her home she remembers seeing images of famous persons flashing around her, including John F Kennedy, Adolph Hitler, Judy Garland, etc. She woke up in her bed with her concerned husband attempting to calm her down.

The creature had very little hair, as if it was a newborn. He was not able to determine if it was a male or female, but he saw a small scrotum that appeared to be filled with liquid. The small creature had a strong scent, resembling that of sewage. The creature was fighting for its life and was completely filled with panic. On the day following his encounter with a bizarre creature, a local farmer saw three strange looking but very well dressed men that showed up as he spoke to a friend who had also seen the creature. They stood some 30 meters away from a group of acquaintances who were busy sharing a side of flame-roasted beef. They approached the farmer and informed him that they were police officers and were going to arrest him. Surprised he asked why, since he had not done anything wrong. They told him he could not discuss what he saw the day before with anybody. He asked the strangers to show some badges but they refused. He described the men as being almost 2 meters tall, very thin and closely resembling one another, especially in their bearing and constitution. They wore sunglasses that concealed their eyes. One of them had eyes that reminded the witness of "Spiderman." They always kept their left hands in their pockets. They surveyed the entire area, and never once did they call out to one another. All three wore a type of glove, which left their ring and smallest fingers exposed, with the rest of the fingers occupying a single space. Their shirt cuffs covered part of this "pseudo-mitten" over which they wore a thin, shiny metal bracelet. He also described a 'prosthetic' covering the nail of the smallest finger, and a ring placed at the tip of the ring finger. Their Spanish was very strange, sloppy as if they were drunk. They spoke a language among themselves that the farmer was unable to understand, he was sure that it was not English. After they left the witnesses realized that the men had not moved their mouths to speak. The farmer further noticed that the group leader wore a hat "similar to a bullfighter's" which barely covered one of his ears, in which he could see a "V" shaped cut and a darker shade of color. He also recalled the following details: a very sharp vocal tone, short blond hair, broad forehead, high cheekbones, straight nose, thin neck, small mouth (except for the leader, who had thick lips and was wearing a safari-type jacket), a mechanized walk, similar gestures, line eyebrows, black ties and tie clips the same color as the stones on their rings. One of the men engaged in roasting the side of beef remarked: "They approached us at one point and looked us up and down, but said nothing at all. They appeared to walk and spin on the tips of their feet. They gave the impression of weighing less than a normal person." Soon her and the being sat on the ground next to a eucalyptus tree, despite the cold night, M fell very comfortable. She was told by this being that various civilizations were visiting the earth. She was also told that there had been a titanic explosion in an area of the Universe that created hundreds of asteroids that destroyed several planets. Many of the survivors were now migrating to different points. She was told that some of the "visitors" lived and had extensive underground installations in several locations on earth. The alien explained that they were following a "Universal Cosmic Plan" here on Earth that the humans were not following to well. They were here on a mission and they were not going to be deterred. The witness was at a estate auction and had gone outside for a cigarette. When he got outside there were already 5 or 6 other people there. After a few minutes a big round ball of light went zooming by, followed by about 14 more going at a very high speed. As the surprised group talked about what had happened a formation of about 15 more in a crescent formation went by, but very slowly, it was followed by another 15 in crescent formation again going very slowly. This formation was followed by a huge ship that was rectangular, completely black with no lights at all. This was followed by two more crescent formations, 15 spheres in each group, followed again by 15 spheres flying at random, but in a tight grid.

There appeared that there was an observation window in the front of the large ship where they could see the outline of two individuals. This sighting occurred in broad daylight. It appeared to the main witness that the large ship was being 'protected' by the formations of spheres.

A local peasant in southern Bulgaria made a stunning discovery at a location 200 km south of Sofia, the Bulgarian capital. What was found was an unusual skull that according to professor of anthropology Jordan Jordanov he had never seen one quite like it, neither on an animal or a human. Bulgarian archeologist Katya Melamed also admitted never encountering something similar during in her practice. The skull was located in a most peculiar manner, according to the peasant; in a dream-like state he encountered 5 humanoid figures wearing metallic yellowish suits that told him to go to the mentioned place on May 21. Obeying the instructions, he found the skull and nearby a small metallic object. The skull weighed 250 grams, and had six openings, possibly pertaining to nostrils, eyes, nose, etc. But no bone structure in analogue to the human mouth hollow was noticeable. According to the estimation of the researchers the finding is only about 60 years old. The hypothesis was proposed that the "alien" might have been killed during the Second World War. It is not known what happened to the metallic "device" or object found near the skull.

Before the main encounter on the above date the witness was lying on her brightly lit bedroom and telling her boyfriend to go to a nearby taco shop for some Mexican food. After he left she dozed off and fell asleep. Her next memory is of seeing her boyfriend returning and him entering the bedroom, he said very loud, "wake up! The food is here"! As she opened her eyes she saw a gray-like creature do a spin and disappear near the bedroom window. The first thought that ran through her mind was that was that after she fell asleep something was in the room with her. Afraid of the reaction she didn't tell her boyfriend. The next night she had been on the computer the whole night and then went to bed early, later her boyfriend joined her. As they went to bed she turned the lights off, but the room was lit from a light outside attached to the building. So the bedroom wasn't completely dark. They both soon fell asleep. In the middle of the night she woke up sweating, form some reason she was very hot. She got up from bed and walked to the right corner of the bedroom to wipe her face from the sweat with one of the clean towels on the laundry basket. As she bend down and grabbed the towel and wiped her face she noticed something behind her that seemed to be small, quickly run past her and turn to her left, she turn to her left and looked to the floor but saw nothing. Then as she lay down she dropped the towel and again saw something moving. Looking around she noticed something behind her to the left side. She quickly turned and saw a small creature squatting on the floor. The creature had lizard like skin, a mixture of colors, black, dark green, and dark gray. The little creature stood up and stretched its arms that had attached skin that appeared to resembled “broken wings”. The creature’s eyes were black and the feet looked like they were hooped like that of a pig or horse. Incredibly as the “little creature” stood up it was about 8ft tall and it moved in a slow jerky manner. It stepped over the bed in one step and while doing this the witness’s boyfriend woke up and tried to yell but no sound came out of his mouth.

As it crossed over the bed it turned toward the witness squatted down again and sat on the floor, apparently becoming small again. In the meantime her boyfriend was attempting to turn the bedroom light on and asking at the same time “What the hell is that?” The main witness was speechless as the creature stared at her; she looked down at the floor and wondered where the creature’s long legs had gone to. She then noticed that there was another creature sitting next to it, with its head hunched down in order to fit in the room (!). This second creature was enormous in size, it had a long face with black eyes, it sat like a dog sitting straight up, the witness noticed that it had two horns attached to its head that went straight back, it had the same colors as the other creature but the feet were different. Terrified the main witness began to shake all over. Suddenly inside her mind the witness had a vision of a faraway planet where many humans were there and were unable to return to earth. There she saw many similar creatures in what appeared to be a military stance, they seemed to be angry and then it all went away. She then saw the two creatures standing in the room again. Terrified the witness thought about her children thinking that they would never see them again, suddenly she heard the large creature say in an angry tone, “Look at those humans” that’s when the witness quickly jump into the bed burying her head in the blankets and praying. She then yelled “Turn on the light! But her boyfriend was trying and it was not coming on. Then suddenly the light came on and she runs towards her boyfriend, when she looks in the direction of the creatures they were gone. Everything seemed to have taken place in five minutes but when she ran out the bedroom she realized that it was almost 0500A.

The witness woke up in the middle of the night like he usually did but this time he found something staring at him. It was about 3-4 ft tall; it had a huge head with a tiny white "eye" in the middle. The room was dark, but the creature's body was so dark that he could perfectly see the outline of it in the dark. The witness just stared at it because he did not know what it was. The other one was walking around looking at him, then turning to his sister and then looking at him again, and turning to her again, it did this repeatedly. Then it began to lightly tap the top of his sister's head, she didn't wake up. It looked as if they were trying to choose between the witness and his sister, and it seemed to have liked his sister. The witness then acted like he was sleeping and then quickly turned over, turned on the light and ran out his room without looking back. He ran straight to his parent's room, he woke up his mom and told her there were "things" in his room, but she didn't believe him. The aliens then informed Olga that they wanted to show her life in their planet, but only if she agreed. Immediately she agreed and soon they appeared in a strange place without sun. The area was illuminated by some sort of artificial light. The landscape looked very much terrestrial, with fields, mountains, rivers, forests and seas. She saw all this as the spacecraft approached the alien habitat. When they finally landed Olga and the aliens exited the craft and began walking around on what appeared to be a street. On each side of the street Olga saw 2 story houses. The roof of each house was topped with a dome and a shiny golden looking cross. On the first floors she didn't see any windows, only the entry doors. Several alien males and females all wearing flowing white gowns were walking in and out of the houses. The aliens had beautiful long wavy blond hair and had light skin. They greeted the human guest and welcomed Olga to come inside one of the houses. Olga then entered one of the houses and was accompanied by several alien guides to the second floor. The aliens then sat Olga at a table and began treating her with various dishes and drinks. All the dishes looked unearthly, the first was violet in color and she hesitated in eating it and only took a small bite. The food was edible but tasteless. Olga then remembered the piece of black bread she had brought with her and offered some to the aliens who took a piece and ate it, she also took out some sunflower seeds she had in her pocket and gave them to the aliens who seemed to enjoy them very much. The aliens then led Olga to some type of barn or granary and showed her the harvest yield of wheat. They explained to Olga that at one time in the distant past their ancestors had given grains of wheat to humans and had taught them agriculture. After the wheat the aliens showed Olga fruit trees with uncommon emerald color leaves. Then Olga accompanied the aliens into a huge building. Inside in a large hall Olga could hear the sounds of harmonic music and on a stage Olga saw a beautiful Nordic alien woman. This woman was dressed in a short snow-white skirt and an orange sports shirt. She was apparently showing a group of alien teenagers sport and dancing moves. The teenagers repeated the moves accordingly. All the alien teenagers were dressed in the same identical manner; all girls had short white skirts, and all the boys had white shorts and everyone wore the orange sports shirt. They paid absolutely no attention to the visitors including Olga who stood around watching. Curious, Olga asked if these were the morning exercises but was told that the teenagers were practicing dance moves. Olga then mentioned that humans were more energetic and lively when they danced and that the aliens all looked very serious all the time. She then asked them if they ever smiled, their answer was "No". Stunned Olga then asked them how did they enjoy themselves, but apparently the aliens did not understand her question. Olga then explained that humans enjoy themselves with drink, food and laughter. The aliens pointed out to her that it was not the way that it was done in their planet and reminded her that her husband was an alcoholic and that alcohol was "bad". Olga then told her hosts that their society was quite dull that life on earth was much more joyous. The aliens retorted, "But you live wrongly that's why you have several illnesses. Stay here with us and we will cure you!" However Olga said, "No I don't want to stay her, I feel much more at ease at home". "But you wanted to run away from your alcoholic husband?" answered the aliens. Olga defended her husband saying that he was good at times, and remembered that her daughter was about to give birthday and that she wanted to be a grandmother on earth. The aliens then said, "Well let's go back" and they walked back to the spacecraft. Only does not recall how she suddenly appeared back on the bench in her yard but she was suddenly there, dawn was near, apparently she had been gone several hours. She was hungry and ate supper, her husband woke up, amazingly sober, and Olga began telling her about her extraordinary experience, but he only laughed at her. Others in the village also did not believe her.

The main witness and her boyfriend were going through some tough financial times and had just come back to her hometown. They were in between places and had to reside in our van because of their circumstances. Both were at the "spot" or the place they would park for the night in order not to get harassed by cops. As both sat there relaxing with a couple of beers they both looked out the side of the passenger window, and to their surprise they saw a couple of strange entities. They were approximately six feet tall and had massive eyes. To this day they still refer to them as the "owl people". After that occurred they went through a couple of weeks where both were really connected psychically, they could practically read each other's minds and very strange things happened. The 10-year old witness was at a weeklong overnight YMCA summer camp in the mountains around Santa Cruz. He was assigned to a cabin with about ten other kids and one counselor. This cabin was known to be "haunted" so he went into that week hoping he would see a "ghost" or demon or something because he didn't think they were real. The second night, he awoke freezing cold and the door to their cabin wide open. He was closest to the door which explained why he woke up due to the cold. His initial thought was that a wolf or something was prowling around the single room cabin, but that thought was instantly proven false when he looked up over the railing of the top of the bunk he was on and in the direction of the rest of the room where the other kids were sleeping.

He was terrified; he saw four tall spiritual looking beings, at least seven feet tall, maybe less because he was a kid and everything looked bigger back then, but they were tall. Also thin, and glowing a subtle white color, not a bright glow but almost as if they were ghosts, which is what he believed they were until a few months ago (2014). They were all facing away from him; at this point he was peering through a crack in a mummy bag. Two of them were leaning over the only black kid who was on the bottom bunk in the back corner of the cabin, everyone but the witness were sound asleep, either that or hiding just like him. After about a minute of staring at them, he covered himself up for the rest of the night. The next morning, he came out of the cocoon he had put himself in to keep "him safe" and the door was still wide open. According to the witness the same black kid that the entities had shown interest on every night after the encounter would have these screaming night terrors waking everyone up every night.

The 19-year old witness was working at a summer job and usually closed very late. One night as he was closing up the store and started to walk home, which was only about a mile away, he decided to take a short cut, one he had taken hundreds of times through the woods at all hours of the night and day. That night as he was going through the woods, the street lights from outside the woods illuminated a small path. As soon as he let out a yawn, he heard an earth shaking roar, he froze in his steps almost literally soiling himself. The cigarette he had just recently lit only about 45 seconds---1 minute before the roar had burnt his fingers because it was already burnt down to the butt. As he stood there he saw a 7-8 foot tall creature poke its head out from behind a tree. It just looked at the witness. It looked like a lizard with a man's face. It was only about 10 feet from the witness. The creature was huge and it looked like it could have ripped the witness limb from limb if it wanted to. His next memory was of seeing a huge flash of light out of the corner of his eye in the sky and when he looked at the tree again the creature was gone. He looked at his watch and it was 145am, terrified he ran home as fast as he could.

While driving his Opel Corsa along around at the edge of a forest, the witness, 51-year old Alain Besse noticed a dark mass ovoid in shape sitting on a field a few meters from the forest. The object appeared to be about 120-125 meters away. A strong white light emanated from a rectangular opening on the craft. The object was the size of a large truck. Surprised the witness stopped his vehicle and thinking it was some type of "police operation" he watched intently from his vehicle. Soon he noticed two dark human-shaped silhouettes appear at the rectangular opening of the craft. The two figures, which were almost identical in appearance then approached to within 20 meters of the witness vehicle, walking in a normal manner, they were soon joined by a third identical figure that approached from the forest. The witness could not hear any noise coming from the object or the figures. The three figures then turned around and proceeded to walk back to the object. The three of them then entered the rectangular opening and disappeared within the strong white light. The rectangular opening closed or disappeared and the witness could now only see the dark oval shaped form. However at the base of the object he could see a white diffuse light. The craft then emitted a very loud buzzing sound (like a cicada), rotated clockwise and then elevated at a 45-degree angle quickly disappearing into the sky. Besse estimated that the encounter lasted 5 to 6 minutes. Perplexed the witness did not approach the landing scene since it was difficult to access. Since it had been dark the witness could only describe the entities as human-like and wearing dark tight-fitting jumpsuits.

Later she woke up lying on a steel table. It was very cold and the air around her was damp, cold and there was a sort of fog around the room. She then saw a figure come toward her. She tried to scream but could not. The figure came straight to her face. She described it as humanoid, quite tall with no hair on his body. He had a sort of white glow around him. He communicated via telepathy and told her that they were here to help her. She then saw another being come over and touch her on the arm. She was unable to move at all. She then saw an object come toward her face. It appeared to be some type of metal object, like a rod, but it glowed. It emitted a bright white. One of the figures looked at her and said, "Don't worry, I will not hurt you. I am giving you information. Knowledge to get through the coming days" It touched her between the eyes and she saw many different things, numbers, letters, symbols, shapes, pictures, events and much more. She then passed out. Later she woke up still lying on the strange metal table. She was naked and tried to find her clothes and then saw what appeared to be a light, very dim. She walked up to it and noticed that it looked like a porthole. It was round, but had strange symbols around it. The symbols were very geometric in shape, but somewhat different in style, nothing like is normally seen. As she looked through the porthole she saw a huge blue ball that apparently was the planet Earth as seen from out of space. Terrified she started running back to the table and then saw one of the figures come out of nowhere. He came directly toward her, sort of floating in mid-air. He told her telepathically to calm down and that she must go back and remember what she was shown. The next thing she knew she was in her bed totally naked. She staggered toward the bathroom and looked in the mirror and noticed what appeared to be a bright red mark on her forehead right where one of the beings had put a rod.

Brazilian indigenous shamans, Ipu and Cleicha Peixoto were visiting Sue Jamieson at her home when they shared a vivid conscious experience, that contained elements often noted in UFO visitations: surprise, fear, awe, recognition of some beings, teachings, and gaps of memory. Ipu and Cleicha were staying on the ground floor and Sue in an upstairs bedroom. All three of them were tired after having participated in several days of shamanic teaching and healings and, after a dinner and visiting, had retired early, as they were doing a healing on her son, Dan, the next day.

Sue fell into a deep, dreamless sleep within minutes of lying down. Suddenly, she snapped awaked, heart pounding. Her bed was shaking, and she could hear a low pitched, whirring noise. Bright light was shining through her windows, illuminating the room. She could see her Chocolate Lab, "Shadow", who usually has only two moves in his repertoire: lounging and lunging, "belly crawling" along the rug towards the bedroom door. He kept attempting to growl, low-pitched sounds beginning deep down in his throat erupting as pitiful, high-pitched whines. Dazed and confused, she glanced at the digital clock; it was a few minute after 11:00 pm. Shadow was now hunkering down, just inside her bedroom door, whining and peering down the stairs toward the foyer and the front door. She could hear her other Lab "Mali" also whining at the foot of the stairs. Her heart was still jack-hammering in her chest, and fully awake now, she could see and feel that not just her bed, but the whole room was shaking. Her house is a new, large two-story with a full basement. It would take a powerful force to shake it. The whirring, a low whisper penetrating the house from above, sent chills of fear, mingled with anticipation, running along her spine. For reasons beyond her understanding, she got up and went downstairs, herding the dogs out onto the back porch. Both belly-crawled to the end of the porch, peered around the side of the house, and then returned, tuck-tailed, that was her last conscious memory of being downstairs. Sometimes later, she found herself back upstairs in her bedroom, with no memory of what had happened from the time, her dogs had come back inside, including how she had gotten back upstairs next to her bed. She crawled back into bed, feeling exhausted.

The next morning, joining her for coffee, Ipu asked her if she remembered seeing "the visitors from the stars" during the night. He told her that he and Cleicha had lain awake talking before drifting off to sleep. Cleicha woke up because of a light that shone into the bedroom, though the blinds were drawn. She got up and, peering through the slats of the blinds, saw an object with pulsating lights hovering low over the field of balsam trees in front of the house. Keeping her eyes on the lighted object, Cleicha called out to Ipu to wake up and come look. She could not remember anything after that. Ipu remembered standing in front of three, large insect-like beings, which resembled what we call praying mantises. He explained that "these were highly evolved sacred beings, not the grays" that are often reported by experiencers. They talked with him about Sue's son, Dan, who has severe health challengers, and the healing work that could be done for him. They also told him, "The mother (Sue) needs to negotiate with us." Ipu asked, "Negotiate what?" "She knows," was the cryptic reply.

On June 23 around 1900 a 15-year old son took some pictures of a cloud formation. When the pictures were downloaded into the computer, an anomalous object appeared in two of them. The object was very small in one, but appears disc shaped in the other. Because the object appears to be headed downward at a steep angle, the mother of the family came to believe the object had crashed into the swamp. She also had other reasons for believing something had crashed nearby. First of all, she heard noises for three of four nights afterwards. She described the noises as high-pitched squeaky sounds. Also the mother observed what she called a UFO, which was visible in the eastern sky for several nights, at about the same spot every night. A few days after the pictures were taken, the neighbor's son witnesses some men pouring something into the swamp. According to the witness, they were dressed in unusual suits. The mother also claims that her children have seen glowing figures approximately four feet tall when camping overnight in the backyard.

The main witness and his friend Alex were bike riding north on Broadway Avenue by the Barnegat Lighthouse. On the return ride, Alex drove east on 3rd street and there saw about 8-10 stray cats, the main witness followed and watched the cats scatter. Alex turned and started riding back west toward the beginning of the street. The main witness rode a little further down and then turned around when something caught his attention from the corner of his eye. He casually glanced to his left and saw what he first thought was a cat, he visualized it and realized that it wasn't a cat. It was lying in the middle of a blacktop driveway. It had cat-sized body proportions, but the tail was like a ferrets. The head and face were more monkey/ape/humanoid like. Its fur was brownish. It didn't have hind quarters like a cat or a rabbit would have, it humanoid type legs. It looked at the witness nonchalantly and then after a few seconds it noticed that the witness was staring with an obvious horrified expression. It looked at the witness like it knew it was doing something wrong. Its facial gestures made the witness think that it “messed up by me seeing it.” After they shared an awkward look it stood up and turned. The witness noticed that its tail went down at a 45degree angle while it hopped into the bushes on the left side of the driveway. The witness went back over the area the next few days but did not see it again. The witness believes that “this creature is more intelligent than a fox or a cat.”

Elena Petrova, a young woman from the town of Mytisczi and her friend were visiting the Troitse-Sergieva lavra (Trinity-Sergiev ancient monastery) in the town of Sergiev Posad (formerly Zagorsk) during a very hot July day. The trip so far had been uneventful; they visited the monk’s complex, took some holy water from the location and then decided to walk to the nearby railway station, since they had plenty of time before the train departed. Tired from the burning sun both women purchased some ice-cream and sat on a bench under the shade of some trees. Unexpectedly an “adult” man approached them. The man looked “strange” and was dressed all in black. He sat on the same bench with the girls and began talking to them. The manner of speech and his outlook reminded the girls of a common priest from the Russian Orthodox Church, but on the other hand he had something definitely “demonic” inside. Being questioned if he was a priest, the strange men answered in the negative. It was very strange but his voice seemed to envelope both witnesses as both felt very weird hearing their own voices apparently originating from outside instead of from inside their bodies. They sat talking with the strange man until they ate all of the ice-cream. They then said farewell to the stranger intending to leave, but suddenly in a very angry tone the man said, “Well, well go! Don’t lose your way!” The witnesses walked a few steps from the location and suddenly somehow found themselves at a different location, under strong wind, clouds and heavy rain, despite the fact that just a moment ago the sky had been absolutely clear. The girls turned around but the strange man was nowhere in sight, despite the fact that the whole road and area was plainly visible. He had disappeared into thin air. The girls then hurried to the railway station but were at first confused since they were at a different location. Finally regaining their orientation and all wet they came running into the railway station. To their amazement it appeared that 8 hours had gone by and the train had departed long ago. Both their watches had stopped at 1130A. The “guardian” amulet on Elena’s neck appeared smashed in the middle. After the encounter both girls experienced severe headaches, but soon their headaches went away. They never visited Sergiev-Posad again.

The witness, Artem Viktorovich Kovalev was sleeping late one night when he suddenly a sharp flash of light awakened him, similar to that of a camera flash. He opened his eyes feeling a terrible headache. He realized he was no longer on his bed; he was lying on a hard surface no more than 1 meter from the ground. The room was very brightly lit, but he could not see any light sources. On the walls he could see an incomprehensible pattern, Bordeaux red in color, in places darker in other brighter. He did not see any doors or windows. Suddenly his attention was drawn to three silhouettes, which simultaneously approached him. The figures did not appear to be wearing any clothing and were all an identical beige color. Their bodies were totally smooth with a complete absence of wrinkles, nipples, etc. Their heads were also hairless. They were only about 1.5m in height and the witness was not able to see below their waist. Their heads were triangular in shape, the size similar to humans. Their eyes were large, ellipsoid in shape, without eyelashes, without pupils and evenly black. He also could not see eyelids or eyebrows. Their noses were small and flattened, about 1cm in width and about 1.5cm in length. Lips were absent on a small mouth, about 2cm in length. They had narrow arms, and thin necks. The figure located closest to the witness head touched the witness forehead and when he attempted to move he suddenly became paralyzed. The witness then felt as his chest was cut wide open, after which he felt as if they performed some type of operation or procedure inside his chest, moments later he saw the same bright flash and again found himself back on his bed. He touched his chest but found nothing amiss or scars. He felt no pain and felt no immediate health changes afterward. The witness vaguely recalled that the humanoids communicated among themselves telepathically in an unknown language, which somehow he was able to hear, their lips never moved. They communicated with him also via telepathy in Russian. They assured him that he would not be harmed and to not resist them.

The witness was delivering newspapers as usual and had her son along with her to help out. It was still very dark. After dropping a paper into the box she began to drive forward to the next house and noted a late model white pickup truck coming up behind her. She pulled out onto the side of the road and waited for the truck to pass. She claims that everything seemed to be in slow motion at that point. As the truck passed there did not seem to be a driver. The passenger turned to look into the car. She says it was not a natural movement; it seemed to turn its entire body to watch them as it passed instead of just turning its head. The movement was so unnatural it was like it was wearing a full body scuba suit or a suit of armor that was difficult to move about in. Silhouetted in the street light a few yards up she saw no signs of hair on its head that seemed larger than normal, but at the same time it was darker than the darkness around it. Even as the truck passed under the streetlight the figure was still dark. The truck then turned onto a road that she claimed to be a dead end or a long road with no turn off. All this happened within a time space of about 30 seconds. She dropped a paper into the next box and then hesitantly turned down the same street to find that the truck had disappeared.

A middle aged woman was awoken at 5-am, as it was already light, she walked to the upstairs bedroom window to glance at the area in her front garden and her attention was drawn to a very bright light in the sky above the large detached house a little further along the lane and opposite to her house. She could see an extraordinarily tall figure near the front door. She could not ascertain whether he had emerged from that point. She could see his head and shoulders dressed in a very dark wet suit as 'he' proceeded to move about the front garden partially concealed by a tall hedge. The witness immediately tried to step back from the window, as she felt extremely frightened at the time that he would notice her. She began to panic when she found out she could no longer move her legs as they now appeared glued to the floor. The figure came out onto the green and appeared to operate a panel started a series of 4 large pulsing lights on something parked on the grass verge adjoining the front garden of the house. He appeared to squat down and operated this panel at the side of the object. The very tall man must have entered the object as he quickly disappeared. The object now took up a silent hovering position a meter or so above the roadside. The four colored lights appeared to rotate and pulsate alternately so the witness could not view the vehicle directly. She then watched in frozen cold fear as this bizarre object flew up along the road to halt at a position the upper bedroom window where she stood frozen. She could now see it was a domed hemisphere in shape. It was completely silent. The object then instantly shot upwards and was gone. Immediately she became mobile once more and she descended to the kitchen in a terrible state of shock. During the following days she was almost too afraid to go outside, she was also too scared to ask her neighbors if they had observed anything unusual that morning, although the telephones were shorted out in that part of the village.

The hike was taking longer than they thought and they finally arrived at the site around 2300, the sun had already gone down.

First they got a fire going, made with flint and they then make a tent out of a tarp and a few sticks they found during the walk. At around 2325 they get settled and then the witness noticed the howling again. He didn’t think much of it, however five minutes later he heard the bushes moving, they then saw wolf-like figures walking about 20 yards away. The witness father pulled out a 22 pistol, loaded it and put it in his pocket. At around 2346, the witness and his brother saw a Native American dressed in fur walking where the wolves had been. He stopped in his tracks, right as they saw him. He stared at the witness with big glowing brown eyes, and then continued walking, soon vanishing in the woods. After this they witness, his father and brother decided that the Native had been looking around for his 'pet wolf', no matter how bizarre that sounded. Soon they went to sleep.

At around 3:00am the witness woke up to hear very deep breathing. At first he thought it was his dad or brother, but then it got louder and closer. He finally got up the courage and got up to investigate. Going outside he saw a huge wolf 10 feet away from the tent eating the remains of a deer. When the wolf saw him it sprinted into the woods. He expected to see the wolf come out the other side but instead the fur-covered Indian walked out. He stood there staring into his eyes for what felt like two hours. He then suddenly ran into the forest. He quickly got back into the makeshift tent, grabbed the pistol and stayed as still as he could until the sun rose.

The witness had returned home from a walk and was sitting outside the bathroom to cool down a bit before showering. Her husband had just stepped out of the bathroom and was just leaving the bedroom. As she sat there, she saw the upper half of a man's body, seated near the bathroom door, his head looking in the other direction. His skin was fair, translucent-like and he was blond. It took the witness a while to determine if it was a man's body because his shoulders were not distinctly masculine. She had the feeling that what she was seeing was something to do with the supernatural or angels. And she focused on the shoulders to see if there were wings. There were none. The man then turned his face and looked at the witness. His face had perfect proportions, and his facial features were not distinctly masculine or feminine. She had never seen such eyes in a person, nor such a face before. Strange thoughts when through the witness mind as she moved forward to see the radiant sky blue pupils on the stranger. As she looked into the eyes of the stranger she saw ripples (of air molecules?) much like ripples which grew larger when you drop a stone in a pool of water---originating from the stranger's forehead and coming in her direction toward her face. At that moment she heard a deep and a kind male voice (the man did not move his lips) saying, "I know everything about you" in English. The witness felt amused and actually managed a smile and at that moment the man disappeared in front of her eyes. After some time had passed she called her husband and told her what happened.

entering into telepathic communications with the aliens who apparently contacted her first. One night she was surprised to see several objects with very bright white lights that apparently landed on the mountain chain one after the other. She felt afraid as she watched the objects with her binoculars; each object was in the shape of a triangle with three very bright white light sources at each apex, and several smaller lights towards the bottom of each craft. From her remote vantage point, 6 to 7 km to the southeast she couldn't see if the crafts had landed or if they were hovering close to the ground. Several of the UFOs had apparently landed near Lopata Mountain (about 1406m above sea level) located in the so-called Yaltinskaya Yaila ridge. This specific night was strange seemingly because a whole squadron of objects had landed on top of the mountain plateau. She counted over 12 objects. The sightings continued for several nights in a row (3 or 4 nights). UFOs were arriving each night in sequence and landing on the long ridge of the mountain plateau west of Yalta. After hours of observation in the middle of the night the witness began noticing that the objects were apparently projecting scanning beams of light. One beam was apparently pointed at the witness and it "touched her mind" as she distinctly felt. The aliens had apparently noticed her and entered into telepathic communication, since the amazed witness clearly heard a strong foreign voice speaking straight inside her head. She was so surprised that she did not think of asking any questions however the aliens began questioning her on various subjects. They told her nothing about their origin or nature. The whole exchange was about the future of the human civilization, pollution of the environment, etc.

"The truth about the grays?"

Location. Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania

Date: July 2001

Time: midnight

The witness (involved in other encounters) reportedly being "called" to a room in his apartment and then a flash of light filled his eyes and when it cleared he was lying on a table again. This time several short gray type creatures were preparing to insert a tube into his throat (which was usually painful); as the machine was being prepared several of the grays seemed to rush in from another room. They spoke to the ones about to experiment on the witness and they all ran from the room. He felt a rumble in the table he was lying on and heard a loud explosion, followed by what seemed to be weapons fire. Several minutes passed and then a tall, armored figure wearing a blank face mask entered the room, carrying a type of weapon, resembling an assault rifle. The figure removed the mask to reveal a very canine like face, with bright orange eyes, covered by short, blue fur. The "usual" abduction experience was frightening but seeing this new creature made the witness feel like his heart would beat out of his chest. The being leaned over the instrument table the grays kept their 'tools' on and began touching the objects there, suddenly the witness could move again. The creature came over to him and gently helped him into a sitting position on the table. Then in plain English, asked if he was alright. He told 'her' (he said her because the voice of the being sounded most definitely female to him, yes, and asked what was happening. He rose from the table and the female being led him from the examination room, outside the room, in the large halls of the ship, there were dead bodies of grays around every corner. Creatures like the first one, and several other new strange creatures were at control panels and moving about the ship. The creature introduced 'herself' at this point as "Boudica" and told the witness the ship was going to be destroyed. He asked her way, and what was going on. She then explained to him (something he never thought of in all the other times he had been abducted): The grays, in reality were a cybernetic life-form created by Boudica's race and more than 3 dozen other races in contact with each other on the other side of the Milky Way.

Centuries ago they formed a union with each other to establish trade, travel, and the discovery of new life-forms across the universe. However space travel was a long difficult task. So these large strong alien races created small weak grays as sort of advanced scouts, used to seek out, examine and greet new intelligent life-forms as they found them. The gray body design was chosen because the alien union thought that the body shape was the least threatening. They in general being tall and muscular, they couldn't see the gray body type as being a threat to anyone.

As he proceeded through the ship he noticed gray bodies being carried through the hall, some in pieces. And sure enough in the open wounds of some of the grays he could see servos, wires and components which he could not identify. Boudica then took him to a room filled with several other large aliens. One alien an 8 foot tall being who appeared to have a reptilian face with a feathery red crest around its head, asked how long the grays had been taking him, the witness explained to him (?) that the grays had been taking him for the last 15 years. The reptilian apologize to the witness for all the pain and trouble and promised that it would never happen again. Boudica then told him that he would have to be put to sleep (suspended animation?) in order to be taken back to his apartment, because they didn't fully understand the methods the grays used to teleport people from place to place. She took a long rod-like instrument from the control panel and waved it once in front of the witness face. That was the last thing he remembered onboard the ship.

Radio station WJKM in Hartsville, was knocked off the air by a very powerful blast of unknown energy. The weather was clear---no storms were in the area and there was not a cloud in the sky. All the station's telephone lines were knocked out, several transformers for four blocks had exploded and all the computers in the station lost their mother (boards) and main frame. When the employees at the station went outside to try and find some explanation, they found scores of dead birds that seemed to have been burnt. Their wings, tails, and feet were roasted. The editor of a local newspaper next door to the radio station said that she was sitting with her back to the window when she heard a loud roaring sound, and then there was a flash of light that was so bright it went through the entire building.

The power company and BellSouth were at a loss for an explanation as to what caused the power overload. That same evening numerous residents in Hartsville and the surrounding towns reported strange globes of lights in the sky performing "erratic" maneuvers. Some residents feel that the government was doing some type of experiment in the old Hartsville nuclear plant, since many had seen black helicopters and C-130 transport aircraft land somewhere in the closed facility. In the days to follow, listeners to the station called in about hearing strange humming sounds and feeling like insects were crawling up and down their skin and the hair standing up on the back of their necks. One person claimed that while holding a fluorescent light bulb in his hand, it lit up. This can only happen when the bulb is exposed to an electromagnetic pulse. The Hartsville EMP blast also generated a great deal of other phenomena and physically affected a great number of people who live within three miles of the station. Several people had reported that they had seen a strange "Bigfoot" like creature roaming the countryside, while others claim to have seen ghosts in their home and on the highways. However, most people reported an increase in irritability and headaches. At night, residents reported that there was a strange smell in the air like ozone. The formation of the ozone molecule (three atoms of oxygen held together in a non-polar covalent bond) takes place when oxygen is exposed to an electromagnetic or electrical field.

The witness was in his cabin on the north shore of Mille Lacs, skywatching in the evening as he often does. At one point the birds and bugs stopped flying, and a cloud of "dark matter" something like a big 'cell' flew overhead. He also saw teardrops each like a soap bar with a string attached which would break off from the cloud and fly around. He thought that they were about "five feet across and three and one-half feet high". He watched these for 10 to 15 minutes. Then it turned really dark. About midnight he saw an "angel" an "angelic white" human figure with wings. It was flying toward the southwest over the lake. It was far enough away that he could not see a face or arms. This figure was self-luminous; compared to a fluorescent light, it was brighter. He had also seen a UFO in the past couple of months, probably around June 20, this was like a manta ray, and was escorted by a military jet. The manta craft was about 100 times the size of the jet, he said. He saw this about 1515 while in the parking lot at his workplace (he has been involved in other events).

While filming an event, microbiologist, Dan Burisch, (and others) was sitting on a large rock when he unexpectedly received an electromagnetic surge. It was apparently caused because he added too much energy to the rock and was also trying to magnify the bio-photonic burst with the use of a Class 3 laser. He started literally feeling as though he was sinking into the rock. He also started feeling as he was "graying" out, ready to pass out sinking down into the rock, which was probably the gauss level as they were going up and did not know at the time that there was an event actually within the equipment. They only discovered that there was an event that something looked like it had poked its head up---something that looked very strangely gray alien-type shape---poked its head up and was looking back at the world around the witnesses. Or maybe it was just an image. They couldn't tell. They only found this out days after when they were re-running the video tape (Dan took) and it was at the very end of the tape. As he was shutting the equipment down he was being warned to shut the equipment down via radio and he shut the equipment down just at the time that the "humanoid" was popping out. The equipment Burisch was using was solid rectangular piece with crystal quartz suspended in a gel with a laser piercing the crystal. Electricity was added to the gel and the amperage was increased. All of the sudden they got an electromagnetic burst from it setting there. The bottom of the equipment was setting in contact with the ground. Through the disc that we had positioned---which was like a lens so that we could see what was going on underneath through the disk is where the humanoid or figure emerged. The witness theorizes that somehow a "wormhole" had been created and humanoid from another "dimension" had come temporarily come through.

A man was building a fire behind his house near a wooded area when he heard a noise in the woods and shined his flashlight in that direction. In the distance he saw a large dark "animal" which was then down on all fours, and was assumed to be a bear. The animal then looked at him, and then stood upright on two legs. It began to move into the woods keeping a good distance from the witness who was now following it. The man could never hit the creature with his light; he could only see a silhouette of its body, which gave the impression of being about 8 to 9 ft tall, furry, and blackish-brown in color. It appeared to be moving on two legs, and they kept quite a distance apart, yet moving at a relatively slow pace. During the time that the man followed the creature, it appeared to be moving in an upright position until he lost sight of it in the thicker woods. After losing sight of the creature the witness backtracked, and looking upward was startled to see something quite strange in the sky. About 500 ft away, he saw a large solid luminous triangular object with no individual lights. He estimated the object to be the size of a two-story house. It appeared to be longer than wide. The object, which was silent, was first observed at approximately 50 ft above the ground in a clearing. It then moved down slowly to about 20 ft, where it disappeared behind a thick part of the woods, and was no longer seen.

There, Irina noticed a strange young man hitchhiking on the highway. His uncommon beauty mesmerized her, (tall, blond, etc) she had never seen such correct and ideal features on a man. The stranger seemed to attract her with some unknown power or influence. She then begged her father to pick up the stranger. While in the backseat the young man behaved in a strange manner, and he was carrying a strange box-shaped device, he mumbled something unintelligible and drank some mineral water. The father fearing they had picked up a drug addict stopped the car and asked him to get out. In response the stranger leaned toward Irina and suddenly grabbed her hair. She then felt the box-like device being pressed behind her back and then inexplicably both her and father became paralyzed, their bodies felt soft and weak, and they seemed to perceive everything through a "cloak". The stranger then stepped out of the car sat on some tree branches and began speaking directly into the black box. Irina thought it could have been some kind of recording device, and afraid attempted to leave but both her and her father still were not able to move. After that the stranger suddenly appeared in the car again and the vehicle then began moving on its own accord, both witnesses noticed a bright glow surrounding the car. Approaching Dzhankoy both witnesses noticed that the car was still moving but there wasn't anyone behind the wheel. Finally the car stopped near an abandoned gas station, the blond stranger stepped out of the car and began collection samples of vegetation, while both Irina remained in the car still unable to move. The stranger then approached the car and leaned into it and in broken Russian started repeating in a monotone the word "Spasbo" which means thank you in Russian. Suddenly in front of the startled witnesses the stranger change into a column of bright light which shot across the front of the car turning a greenish color. At this point both witnesses lost consciousness. They both awoke in the morning and to Irina amazement she was surprised to see that her eyes were now green in color, they had been brown since birth.

When she woke up in the morning she felt groggy and sick and noticed blood on her legs and spots of blood on her feet. She thought this was strange because it wasn't that time of the month. A couple of weeks later, she was lying on her bed looking out of the window, which also faces north and saw 3 bluish white bright lights in the sky moving closer towards her. That night Jenny was wearing a sarong, she was adamant there were no stains or discoloring on or in the material. When next she washed she noticed stains and discoloring all the way down the front of it, perplexed she washed it again, and realized the stains were in-ground. When Jenny studied it she was shocked to see the imprint of her legs in the material. Jenny also found a strange scoop mark on her skin; she still has the scar and doesn't know how she got it. She further described the lights as round and silent. They moved forward in up and down spurts and clouds or misty haze formed around them. When she was 9 she was confronted by a huge object with colored lights rotating around it at the time she didn't tell anyone and she now finds this bizarre. Around the same time as her experience with the blue light her 10-year old daughter awoke from a nightmare. She told her mother that small furry creatures with big black eyes were standing at her door and when she started screaming they told her not to be afraid. Then she said it was very dark and there were lots of stars all around her, she said she felt sick the next day and stayed home from school. Jenny said her daughter had complained she could feel something at the back of the roof of her mouth and started picking at it with a pencil and to everyone's surprise she picked out a bit of metal. Her daughter described the creatures as looking like "furbies" and owls and the following night she had the same "dream" again. J.P. Sullivan was coming down the drive way of a home that he was living at the time. He was little more than half way down the driven when he suddenly observed a very sparking white 4-door Honda sedan ascending the driveway opposite to him. As he pulled to the side to allow the other vehicle to pass he observed 4 individuals inside the vehicle. The driver, very oddly, in a mere instant looked and waved at the witness then turned its attention back to its driving. The witness was approaching the end of the drive way by then. At the time he had a Toyota 4-wheel drive truck and it had an Extra-cab so that he could see out the side of the window that was there. There wasn't any way the strange vehicle could have gotten or eluded him in anyway. He made sure that he kept his vehicle blocking the drive way the whole time that he was making a U-turn, instead of backing up and therefore leaving a gap so that the strange vehicle couldn't get pass or around the witness at all. As he started to ascend the drive way I could see the sparkling 4-door Honda sedan in a 360' scope of the landscape anywhere. He went back up to the ranch house to ask the owner if he had seen or heard any vehicle approach the house, he said he had not seen or heard anything. The witness described the occupants of the vehicle as "Nordic" in appearance all identical with odd hand and body gestures. Despite the fact that the vehicle was driving on a dusty road it did not have the slightest particle or speck of dust on the chrome or windshield. He also noticed that the vehicle was rolling along and that all four tires were spotless and dust free, and it was apparently not making any contact with the ground. The witness also noticed that it had been 0800A when he first saw the vehicle and was only 801A when he continued on the main road, he could not believe that the encounter had only lasted for 1 minute.

A local villager named Valentin was returning to his native village from work to his mother's home which was her birthday. He was also bringing rubber and other materials to repair the roof and to also chop up firewood for the winter. On his way to Tihvin he was accompanied by a friend and his wife. At about 12km from the village his engine suddenly cut off amid a forest road. Only pine trees were around. The car gauges did not appear to indicate any obvious reasons as to why the vehicle stopped and all attempts to start it failed. While looking under the hood of the car Valentin noticed what appeared to be several "military men" signaling to go back inside the car's cabin. When Valentin looked around more attentively he noticed a huge structure beyond the nearby small forest. The structure appeared to be shape like a sphere, crossed by a disk in the center (looking more like the planet Saturn. The tall trees in the forest covered about 1/3 of the structure. The disc crossed the sphere in an oblique slanting level at about 60-65 degrees relatively to the ground. The structure almost appeared to be lying on its side. Thick telescopic landing props with flat circular sections at the ends were partially positioned on the ground and some partially hanging in midair, possible evidence of an uneven landing. As appeared to Valentin around the structure he saw a cordon of "young soldiers". All of them appeared to be of the same height, of a smart, correct appearance, dressed in identical uniforms of a silver-gray in color, resembling flight uniforms. He also noticed some green-colored "boxes" between the structure and the road, and the men appearing to be "mechanics" wearing black coveralls appeared to be very evidently busy around the boxes. All of the sudden Valentin felt a strong urge to go to sleep which he seemed unable to resist. Valentin put his head on the steering wheel, falling sleep and then heard his friend and his wife moving about and then crying out loud. He thought to himself "Why is she screaming, the engine is not working anyway, so she can speak normally". But he did not interfere with her screaming and fell asleep. Apparently after some time the engine started working awakening Valentin. Valentin looked at his watch and it had stopped and according to the position of the Sun they had been sleeping for about 1 or 1 1/2 hours. The strange structure and the cordon of "men" were no longer in sight. Everything appeared normal. He looked at his passengers and they were sleeping peacefully. Valentin decided not to wake them, but in a couple of minutes or so they suddenly woke up. When Valentin drove to his native village, he dropped off his passengers and then drove up to his mother's house. Upon approaching his mother's home, his mother appeared looking very upset and asked Valentin where had he been and why had he arrived on Sunday evening instead of Friday. Stunned and confused, Valentin protested and insisted that it was still Friday and not Sunday. His mother seeing his obvious confusion called a nearby neighbor which was working on his plot of land. The neighbor came over and confirmed that it was indeed Sunday and not Friday. Apparently Valentin and his two passengers had been missing for two days, as other local villagers confirmed. Apparently they had been "asleep" for almost 50 hours. Apparently that's why Valentin's watch had stopped. (Is unknown if any hypnotic regression was performed).

The main witness and several other family members had driven into Vicksburg to attend a relative's funeral. They reached their destination at about 2030 and checked into the Comfort Inn where everything took place. There were twelve people all together but they only had four rooms that were all in line with one another. They were very hungry from the long drive and decided to walk across the way to a Cracker Barrel restaurant. However the witness father decided to go up to the room and lay down since he was very sleepy. The rest had dinner and were gone about an hour and 20 minutes before they walked back to the hotel where everyone split up into their rooms. The main witness shared a room with four other people, his brother, a cousin, nephew and his father who was asleep. It was still early so they decided to watch television. They watched a movie until about 0100am and then decided to get some sleep since the funeral was in the morning. His father and brother shared a bed while he shared a bed with his nephew and his cousin lay on the floor next to his bed on his back facing a chair. They turned off the lights except for the vanity mirror light next to the bathroom. The room was dark but not so dark that you couldn't identify objects or people in the room. They had been lying there for about 20 minutes when his cousin still lying on his back with his forearm across his eyes feels something hit his foot. He is startled but keeps his cool and pretends to be asleep because he thought it was the witness playing tricks on him. He then peeps from under his forearm and sees something that really frightens him. He describes a Barbie doll size dark shadow mass that was featureless but still had a human like form sitting off the edge of the chair he was facing. His breathing became elevated because he was petrified at what he was seeing. He continued to watch and pretended to be asleep when this humanoid began to rapidly grow in size while he was watching. It stood up and had reached about seven feet tall within a matter of seconds with a very massive built. As it stood there it bent slightly over in a manner to see if the cousin was still asleep. Afterwards the being slowly walked to the left of his cousin where another seven foot tall humanoid of the same type was sitting on the air conditioner, the second humanoid then stood up and at this time the first one had slightly past by the second when it reached back and passed along a long slender TV remote like device to the second. Once the second humanoid received this device, it beckoned for the other humanoid to follow it while they made their way towards the other bed. At this point the cousin was so terrified that he passed out. Around this time the main witness was awoken by his brother who told him that he felt two doll size bipedal things running up his body and back down when he began to move. He said that they were placing something against his body that had a strong vibration to it. The main witness told him that he was crazy and to go back to sleep. He pulled the sheet over his head and they both lay down again.

After about 30 minutes he felt something run up his body to the back of his head. It placed something against the area where his head and neck meet and delivered an uncomfortable vibration. When he started to jump up, he felt a tiny like person trying to keep its balance on top of his head before it slid down the sheet across his face. The main witness jumped up and woke everyone up except for his father and told them what happened. It was at this time that his cousin told him what he had experienced earlier. They got up and went next door to tell his sister and niece what had happened to them. He sent his brother back to the room to check on their father and while there he saw something about 10 inches in size with something shiny inside the clear bag that contained the witness clothes. They all rushed back to the room where and pulled the clothing out of the bag and scattered it about. As they tried to settle down a shoe suddenly shot across the room like a surfboard. They then heard noises in the bathroom and his nephew and saw a small size being with pale wet looking frog like skin and blister like bumps over its skin. The main witness went back to his sister's room and she told him that something was in their room pushing over things and that she had heard some strange electronic beeps. They stayed up all night and later that morning their father told them that two beings had constantly antagonized him when they believed he was asleep. Doing things such as pulling his eye lids open and buzzing him with some type of device. However he had been too tired to put up any resistance and fell asleep regardless. The main witness claims that after leaving Vicksburg he began to receive visits from the same beings 3 days later at his home in Chicago. Around the same time his sister experienced another encounter. She stated that she was awakened from a nap in broad daylight and heard very heavy footsteps in her living room. She sat up in her bed fearing that someone had broken into the apartment. As she sat there with her heart pounding the footsteps approached the bedroom door which was open. What appeared in the doorway identical to what his cousin had seen in the hotel weeks earlier. She said it was a very tall, bulky black human like shadow with no features. She could only see a very muscular outline of a body. She said it just stood there looking at her, and when she began to yell at it, it casually walked away back into the living room. She jumped out of bed went to the living room and it had vanished.

That night, the visitors summoned M, and she felt herself traveling through a tunnel of "water" or something that felt very similar to water. She soon found herself in a jungle area that was very hot. Suddenly she found herself in a mansion-type structure all white in color; it gave her the impression of being in a hospital. Inside she found numerous children of both sexes that were apparently living there. The children were barefooted and wore white loose fitting outfits. She also saw human adults that identified themselves as “instructors”. The children resembled humans but with some alien traits, almost like hybrids. The aliens told her that soon they would be leaving the earth due to the coming chaos and cataclysm. She saw an image of a huge explosion and many injured persons.

The witness, 50-year old Irina Petrovna Volkova had gone swimming near the central town beach. Being a good swimmer she went beyond the buoy line. Suddenly she noticed something silver in the water. The object approached to within 1-1.5 meters from her, it moved slowly in a jerky fashion. She could now see that it was a disc or lens-shaped object, like two joined hemispheres, no more than 3-3.5 meters in diameter. The craft was even in shape, very smooth, silver metallic with no visible rivets or bolts. The craft move soundlessly almost at the water surface, clearly visible because of the transparency of the water. The object stopped apparently observing her. Her first thought was that it could have been a new bathyscaphe or submarine being tested, but there were no windows. She had the distinct feeling of energy emanating from the object; it seemed to be a positive energy almost like an aura. She became very excited and joyful like she was seeing old "acquaintances". Suddenly "two eyes" appeared on the surface of the object, which had been completely smooth and silver before, the eyes resembled dark round windows. Also two objects, resembling probes jutted out from both sides of the craft. That amazed her, and she thought “such a perfect seamless craft and such rusty-looking tentacles?” Soon she realized that the eyes and tentacles were merely holographic images projected by the crew of the craft either to frighten or amaze her. She had the distinct impression that the occupants of the craft were now reading her mind. The craft now began “playing” with her using the holographic “tentacles” attempting to grab her and approaching her on several occasions. She also had the distinct feeling that there was an alien crew inside that the object was not a remote controlled probe, though she could not see them. She then decided to swim back to the beach as the disc started retreating. She turned around and perceived a telepathic message that stated, “Well, good girl, you did the right thing!” Towards the end the disk made several up and down jerky movements as if waving goodbye. It then slowly moved away and disappeared under the waters.

The witness was walking his dog with his grandfather in the backyard of his grandparent’s home. Suddenly the dog sat down and began barking quite loudly at something behind them. They turned to see a bright light coming up from behind the house. It was flying just high enough that it didn’t touch the top of the old oak tree in the yard. Soon the object was directly above them and he had a very clear view of the craft. It was almost shaped like the spade suit in a deck of cards. The craft was massive and had to be at least forty feet, perhaps fifty feet, wide and perhaps fifteen feet high. On the belly there were several different color lights. On the exact center of the craft was a mysterious dome shaped light, it glowed a color that seemed eerily familiar to the witness and yet like nothing he had ever seen before. Also it seemed as though the light were some form of cross between a solid and a liquid, as if it could hold its shape without need for containment but still allow objects to pass through it. From this light an arm with a long needle and a wire coiled around it attached to it, was expelled from the craft. It was from the tip of this needle that a focused beam of light shot down from the craft. The light hit the ground still concentrated, then seemed to explode in a flash. Then the arm was pulled back into the light. The craft then started to move forward slowly, and being fascinated the witness pursued it; however it sped up and blasted away. Rather confused by what they had just seen his grandfather and the witness entered the house after what they believed to be only five or ten minutes. His grandmother, however, claimed that they had been outside for nearly a half hour and the clock in the house agreed, while his grandfather's wrist watch indicated that only a few minutes had passed.

They had parked their vehicle next to an old abandoned helio-drome with a tattered landing platform made of concrete. The witnesses were sitting at a nearby kiosk when suddenly a disk shaped light colored object was seen coming towards them flying low and soundless from a northeast direction. Their mobile phones, radio and the vehicle CB ceased to function all at the same time. When the UFO approached them it was emitting a light sound "like a small electrical motor." The sound was not heard after the UFO landed or during the rest of the incident. The UFO approached and landed softly on the old concrete platform about 15 meters away. It was shaped like two plates stuck together on their lids were about 3 meters in diameter and seemed to have a whitish or metallic color. It seemed to land on its "belly" and not on landing gears. It was partly hidden by small bushes. After a short while the frightened witnesses watched a door open on the side of the UFO. The opened door formed a ramp leading to the ground. Inside the opening a dim light was observed. After that, three small occupants emerged from the inside one after the other. They were humanoids, 80-90 cm tall, with normal bodies and limbs, resembling small kids. The beings were wearing tight-fitting and seemingly metallic uniforms or suits, like the ones used in scuba diving ending in a "hood" that was covering the head but not the face. The witnesses could not see their faces in the dark, but apparently the humanoids were not wearing a visor, or faceplate. The 3 humanoids preceded one after the other for about 7 meters until they reached the end of the flat area on the top of the hill. They seemed to walk a little bit faster than the normal. Then they seemed to descend on a small path that leads to the seaside and vanish from view. Meanwhile the opening on the UFO remained opened. One of the witnesses attempted to walk towards the UFO but thought better of it. After about 10 minutes the humanoids appeared again on the path and preceded, again, one after the other to enter the UFO. The door closed and the UFO took off softly and silently. It vanished from view southward. The witnesses searched for traces but could not find any. 2 nights later the same group of men saw a huge disc shaped object fling slowly overhead, it emitted a soft whirring sound and again they experienced EM effects on their radios and cell phones.

Soon after a "remarkable" UFO landing was reported in the area (no details on that), a married couple, Mr. Sivtsov and Mrs. Sivtsova---both witnesses to the UFO landing, which had occurred very close to their house, were returning from the forest when they suddenly saw a car stop on the road near them. The outer appearance of the car was like a typical German "Audi". The driver, sitting close to the steering wheel was a light haired blond male. He then offered the couple a ride in his vehicle. They agreed and went inside. As soon as they entered the vehicle they were both surprised as to the appearance of the inner structure of the car. The ignition panel, the pedals and the instrument panel were all absent. The only familiar equipment they saw was the steering wheel. There were numerous unusual buttons. Leonid Sivtsov tried to tell the stranger driver where to go but the driver stopped his attempt and told him that "he knew exactly where he was going". (Apparently reading the witnesses minds?). When the car approached the witnesses home their son was outside to meet them, Sivtsov's son was surprised to notice that the car was in a sparkling and clean condition despite all the autumn dirt and mud in the area. The "Audi" looked brand new as if it just had "come out of the plant". However the young man described the driver as having dark hair contradicting his parent's testimony (probably the humanoid had projected a holographic image of a human being which was seen in various forms by the witnesses). The Sivtsovs invited the driver to their home, but the stranger said he was in a hurry. Leonid Sivtsov wanted to accompany him to the car but the stranger "ordered him" to sit down and finish drinking his tea and then he will be able to get. Amazingly Leonid realized that he couldn't move his legs and remained sitting. After several minutes this torpid state was gone. However by this time the "Audi" had already left the area. All three witnesses then agreed that the car's engine did not emit a sound at all.

His friend said that every single one of them looked identical, same size, same color skin, same features, he added that their skin looked synthetic like a plastic or rubber. Without hesitation he walked into the convenience store and realized that his friend was right. According to the witness he saw five soldiers in the store and they all looked "fake" or as if they were quintuplets. He did not want to be obvious and began to grab things off the shelves and noticed that the soldiers were only buying ice and water, which seemed strange since it was 54-degrees outside. As he stood in line behind them he noticed that not one of them said a word, not to the cashier, or not to one another, and each of them had what looked to be some type of clear coat on their skin almost a shiny finish like heavy sweat, but definitely not. Once on the freeway the witnesses noticed that the Army trucks were heading straight into a mountain off in the distance less than half a mile away. They seemed very frightened and did not want to talk about what they had seen. However after persistent requests by the adults to tell what happened, the children described their extraordinary experience. During one of their get together they had randomly glanced inside into one of the rooms of the abandoned building and inside the room the children saw a group of "strange* people'. The strangers were "completely and properly dressed" and were occupied with some strange unknown equipment, remotely similar to computers. However there was nothing strange in the appearance or the behavior of the strangers. But an uncommon detail that the children noticed was that there was heat present in the room despite the fact that there were no windows and it was late autumn. At first no one paid much attention to this strange detail and it was only later while reconstructing the events, did they remember this component. Soon a completely friendly conversation occurred between the children and the strangers. Soon the children left but kept returning to the same building and communicating with the same strangers which remained in the same room. This went on until one day when while the children watched one of the men injured his hand while carrying a heavy box, his skin seemed to peel off revealing a totally different hand, a hand that was not human and was of a different color. At this point the children panicked and ran from the area. Later some of the parents returned to the location but found nothing amiss.

Lisa Wooley walked into a local Chinese restaurant-bar called "Golden Mum" and sat on the bar feeling a bit distressed as a result of personal situations. She immediately became aware of two persons directly behind her. One was a man of about 43, with short blond hair, wearing a blue bandana, blue sweatshirt, and jeans. The other was a woman around 35 with short dark hair, thin with fairly light skin, wearing a blue skirt and top. She had elfish features and the man looked and acted as if he could have had some military background. For some unknown reason she became interested in their conversation. The woman seemed to be receptive to her observation. Suddenly the conversation switched and she began interpreting the witness thoughts for the man. Whatever the witness thought in her head she would repeat to the man. The woman began "talking" about the witness and felt the witness was a nice person but the man said that her energy level was low. The witness then told them (mentally) that she had been out the night before and that's why she was tired. The woman seemed too had wanted the witness to go somewhere with them, but the man was opposed to the idea. She said she wanted to take the witness with her, but the man said, "The star base at the North Star wouldn't be too pleased with the idea". The man seemed to be not too fond of the human race and seemed to have zero tolerance or interest in humans. He said about the humans just being toys or boring creatures. This psychic conversation lasted for about 20 minutes until the strange pair left. The witness felt that towards the end the man was a little more impressed with humans. The witness had decided to go and confront the strangers but became somehow they had disappeared once she approached their table.

Witnesses reported coming over the mountains a group of spacecraft approaching in a group of three in a formation of a triangle. The head of the triangle was at least 7,000 meters long and the two behind it were 1,000 meters long. There was a bright red light in a consecutive pattern. This group then disappeared. Then came the rest of the crafts (9) which came over at about the speed of 30 to 35-km per hour, these were about 500-meters long but did not blend in with the sky as the first group did. Then 8 of the crafts disappeared but the ninth stayed behind and after a minute or two it landed. Then the main witness and 7 others in a hiking group went to investigate. When they got to the scene they spotted about 50 or more short green-grayish creatures that appeared to be "testing" and examining the area. After about an hour the creatures went back inside their spacecraft and took off into the night sky.

As he looked towards the beach, at the tree line he sees a very big black object that he thought was an airplane crashing, so he ran with the dog toward the beach. When he got to the boardwalk he saw a black triangle craft that looked like a Stealth fighter hovering at the edge of the beach, there was no water splashing or sand blowing everywhere just a quiet humming sound. The dog was calm and apparently unafraid. As he walked along the boardwalk it follow him and the dog and as it did it was moving closer to the boardwalk, so close that he could see "U.S. symbols on the craft" he could also see the pilot clearly, he had a helmet and visor on. The cockpit was lit up and the pilot or occupant gave the witness the "thumbs up sign" and he gave him one back. And from an almost standing still position, the craft shot like a bullet without a sound and in seconds it was gone. The witness felt no fear as he was convinced that it was some kind of unknown terrestrial technology.

The moon was out and shining brightly and there wasn't a cloud in the sky. They turned to look towards the southeast and saw two red lights and what looked like a beam of red light attaching the two. They tried to ignore it but could not, commenting that there weren't any communication towers in the area. Soon there was only one red light that appeared to be moving closer and closer to the men. They were nervous but also curious at what could be. The main witness then pulled his high power rifle with scope to see the object even closer. The object was not at about 1000 ft away and they could see small details like two windows, and green/red lights at the bottom. The ship or object looked like a thimble with stripes and didn't make any sound. The main witness noticed yellow light coming out of the windows and what appeared to be the figure of a head looking at them from one of the windows. He became concerned and told the others to leave the area and went to the other side of the road. He kept watching the craft as it didn't go very far probably about a half a mile from them. It then hovered in that same spot for about 5 minutes as if watching the men. The craft then followed the road back to The Pas at about 200 ft above the ground and always the distance ahead of the men for about 15 miles. The whole time the men experienced an eerie feeling of being watched. They thought about shooting at it but thought better of it, fearing that it might just “shoot back”. After Bracken Dam the craft took a different course and sped off towards Young’s Point settlement. The men never talked much about what they had seen after the incident.

Keith Rylance telephoned police after he woke to screaming of housemate Petra Heller about 2330. Ms. Heller and Mrs. Rylance had been watching TV in a caravan annex at the side of the house. Ms. Heller reported seeing Amy Rylance, 22, "floating through window carried by a beam of light." She described the beam as rectangular in shape that was being projected through the open window of the caravan lounge room. The light beam appeared to be truncated at the end. Inside the beam Petra saw Amy in a sleep prone position, being carried out head first through the window. Underneath her, also within the beam were the items that had been on the coffee table adjacent to the couch Amy had been on. Before apparently fainting in shock, Petra saw that the beam was coming from a disc-shaped UFO hovering just above the ground a short distance away, near a tree at the rear of the clear section, immediately behind the annex caravan house. Regaining consciousness, Petra began screaming. Police Constable Maragna noted that the fly screen covering the window was ripped and the leaves of a bush near the window were wilted at the spot where the light beam was alleged to have picked up the woman. While suspicious police waited for crime scene officers to arrive, Mackay hospital staff telephoned the residence to say Mrs. Rylance had been brought in after she was found muddy and confused near a service station. She told police she remembered watching television that night before waking in a strange room where she was confronted by a 1.8 meter tall being, "human like in shape." The being wore a metallic diver's suit with a helmet and a mask. She claimed the being told her she would be returned not too far from where she was taken "because the light was wrong." Her fingernails have reportedly grown considerably after the incident. Additional information:

A statement was notarized by the Mackay police, with a Justice Act acknowledgement, that required Amy to acknowledge that what she had stated was true to the best of her knowledge and belief, and that if it is admitted as evidence, that she may be liable to prosecution if she had indicated anything in it that she knew was false.

This statement indicated that she recollected lying on the couch at the Gundiah property. She had no recollection of the events that Petra described, but claimed she then next remembered waking up lying on a bench in a strange rectangular room. Illumination came from the walls and the ceiling. She was alone. She indicated she called out and heard what seemed to be a male voice, asking her to be calm and that everything would be all right and that she would not be harmed. Soon an opening appeared in the wall and "a guy" about 6 feet tall walked into the room. The man appeared to be slender in build, but in perfect proportion, covered head to foot in a full body suit. He had what seemed to be a black covering mask on his face, with a hole for his eyes, nose and mouth. He repeated his calming assurances. Amy's story includes some intriguing elements such as her recollection that she was on the "ship" for seven days, but that less than three hours passed in our terms. She also indicated the humanoid described the "ship" as operating on principles that seemed like a description of a whole ship based on a form of total nanotechnology. There were two beings that appeared to be normal human-like "humanoids" in "biological suits" with "gray masks." There were also a few smaller humanoids. The "guy" told her they were returning her to a place not far from where they took her, because the lights were wrong at the property and it wasn't safe. She then indicates she found herself lying on the bed and falling asleep. The next thing she recollects is that she woke up on the ground with trees around her. She felt disoriented, could smell the ocean, and indicated she was not sure how long she stumbled through bush-land, but seemingly it was for a long time, feeling she wasn't making much progress. She then came out onto a road that looked like a highway and saw a light from a petrol station. She walked into the station, where the staff, seeing her state, tried to offer some assistance.

She accepted some water, as she felt somewhat dehydrated. Initially she was not able to answer identifying questions, and didn't know where she was. She was also asked if she had been drinking or was on drugs, to which she said no. Amy indicated she felt tired, sore, drained, and lethargic. She asked a woman at the service station to take her to the hospital, as she didn't know where else to go. The woman and her friend took Amy to the hospital. Later Amy spoke with two police officers and also spoke with her husband Keith from the hospital. She then went to Mackay police station, where she gave the statement of events.

At the same time that a huge triangular-shaped UFO was observed in the regions of Krasnodar, Stavropol, Rostov, Volgograd, Saratov and Samara, businessman Oleg (last name confidential) was repairing his recently purchased wooded cabin in a small village near a river where he intended to open a manufacturing business. On October 11 he received a telephone call from the security personnel guarding the area that there was a huge object hovering over his house, about 100 meters in diameter and luminous. Oleg looked out the window and was stunned to see the luminous object right over the roof of his house; it seemed to be covered in a light fog. While he pondered on what to do several entities suddenly appeared inside his house. They were two types, 1 human-looking females, in white dresses, and the 2 human looking males, dressed in a kind of uniform. They were walking from room to room and carrying some type of metallic equipment. When his shock passed Oleg became indignant and asked the strangers, what were they doing in his house. The entities stared at him in questioning glances. Suddenly he heard a voice in his mind. A voice told him that they would not harm him, that they had encountered some technical problems that must be solved. They also added that the house and area was not his "domain" but their territory that they had visited since ancient times. They ordered him not to allow anybody in the house and for him to stay in the house without contacting anybody. Oleg then telephoned the security post and told them that he was ok and kept quiet about the situation. For the next three days he was under virtual house arrest. The whole time the alien "technicians" were occupied performing certain tasks and the females kept watch over him. Once he attempted to peek inside the large room where most of the "work" was taking place, but he was prevented from doing so. He could not get any TV or Radio reception and spent most of the time watching videotapes. Finally the alien woman advised him that they were almost done and soon would be leaving. He then told the aliens, "If you have great ability, can you help me please, as you can see I am an invalid, can you cure my legs?" He had been suffering from some type of debilitating disease that had atrophied his legs. They told him that they could cure him but he would have run every-day on a regular basis or his whole organism would "degrade". After that, the aliens performed some type of "surgery" on his body. 2 females stood on each side of him and scanned his body with some type of device. They soon told him, "now you do not only have normal legs but very strong legs", but told him that everything that had occurred must be kept secret. The next morning Oleg woke up a normal man, and for the next several legs he was in a state of euphoria and started running. But soon a fear overcame him and he worried if the aliens would return soon and he reported the incident to a Moscow based group called "Cosmosearch". Several group members including Vadim A. Chernobrov visited the site and interviewed many witnesses. However while at the house they were all overcome by a strange eerie feeling and could not hear their footsteps as they walked on the wooded floors. While performing their investigation the electricity went out once. Despite all attempts information leaked out, agitating the locals, who now firmly believed that the area was a thriving UFO base. Soon the huge UFO appeared over the area again and many of the wooden cabins mysteriously caught fire and all burned to the ground. Shocked as to the events, and thinking that the aliens were upset at him, Oleg sank into a deep depression and forgot to exercise daily as the aliens had told him. As he was warned the problems on his legs returned again and his lungs and heart also began malfunctioning. He died in January 2004.

The witness was returning home on the old Helix Highway when her car stopped, the lights and the engine went dead. She attempted to re-start the vehicle but nothing worked. As she was checking under the hood with a flashlight she noticed a large metallic object with lights approaching the vehicle. It was silent and began to hover over the highway. A hatch that made an eerie squeak opened on the side of the object and the witness was drawn in within a beam of blue light. Inside she saw a short, squat, human like figure, with whitish gray skin that appeared to have liver spots all over it. He made her take off her clothing and lied down on an "operating table." The humanoid then proceeded to examine her genitalia. Her next memory was of waking up the next morning, fully clothed, and seated in the vehicle.

A 51-year-old security guard reported hearing strange sounds at a construction site that he was guarding. He described the sounds as similar to hearing children running and playing around. The sounds came from outside the stockpiles of wood. His companion, a pregnant stray dog, suddenly ran towards the back patio, while he listened, the noise seemed to get louder. Thinking there was robbers about; he picked up his flashlight and run towards the door. As soon as he opened the door, the dog ran out barking, ran a few feet then suddenly bounced right back. The animal was apparently terrified and was moaning in apparent pain. The witness then saw a bright oval shaped object floating around near the 55-gallon drums. The object was about 35 ft from the witness. The object moved at about 15 mph. It appeared to be some type of small airship. It did not emit air, noise, or it left a contrail. He felt a strange sensation in his body. Other guards reported seeing strange looking men dressed in gray roaming around the site. They were very elusive, and appeared to be looking for something.

A man named Viktor "Shutov" a resident of the city of Perm was alone in his cottage after working extremely hard in the garden and as he dozed in his bed a strange thing occurred. A "portal" or door suddenly appeared in the air in front of the bed. He then saw a beautiful female entity with wavy black hair step out of the portal. The woman somewhat reminded Viktor of his first girlfriend. She wore a tight-fitting white silky looking outfit, which emphasized her attractive female attributes. The alien woman then mounted Viktor in a riding position in his torso area. Viktor was totally paralyzed and was unable to move his hands or legs. He could not resist. However he was able to move his hands after he answered a question that the strange woman had asked him, which was "Am I beautiful?" Viktor answered yes, at the same time embracing the woman, which seemed to be very light in weight. After having sexual intercourse with the woman, Viktor asked her why were it necessary for her. With not a hint of humor she answered that "it was the mating season". Soon the same portal appeared again in the room

A young man named Mikhail Prosuzhyh was returning home from a club along a well-traveled road in which he had to cross a grove but suddenly a powerful feeling of worry came over him, his intuition told him not to go through there. It was almost dark and he decided to trust his intuition and walk around the grove. But he blacked out at about 20 meters from the grove. When he returned back to his senses to his outmost amazement he found himself walking in the middle of the grove, the area he had attempted to avoid in the first place. Not knowing what to do, he continued to walk. He arrived home at 2030; a walk that usually took him 20 minutes had taken an hour. He strained his memory and was able to remember seeing a blue rectangular-shaped object resembling a door that suddenly appeared in front of him. He also remembered seeing two large dark eyes that appeared within the rectangular shape. But he could not understand what had happened. Soon after these mysterious events he found a slight swelling on the back on his head. Besides, a painful hardening appeared inside his nose (apparently indication of an implant) that vanished in 2 weeks, and he found 2 round pigmented spots in his stomach. Soon after the incident he began experiencing frequent nose bleeds and began noticing a strange odor resembling sulfur within his home. The witness also reported that at times when he became angry the light-bulbs in the house seemed to burn out.

The witness woke up flying through what appeared to be a watery tube or conduit of a flexible nature (involved in other encounters). This tube like structure appeared to be flying through the air, she felt surrounded by a liquid energy. The tube was long and flexible. Under her she could see another human and above her another human. They seemed to be spaced apart only by a few meters. She saw what appeared to be a large city apparently Buenos Aires below her. Soon she was inside a ship in a huge room with walls made out of a material resembling transparent acrylic. The room was of a hexagonal shape. There were over a hundred humans in the room apparently from different parts of the planet. Some were wearing nightgowns others what appeared to be sports clothing. Somehow she knew a reunion was going to take place. Looking at the crystal like walls she saw a young girl looking back at her, the girl resembled her when she was a young girl. She felt a very calm atmosphere surrounding her and her voices in her head. She was able to see the universe through the transparent crystal walls. She was told that great changes were coming in the earth, mostly to do with great climate changes and war and conflict among humans. She was told of a massive coming pandemic that will destroy more than half of the human race. She was told about the current wars in the Middle East and Afghanistan. Flavia Bezerra and her son Jose Max Bezerra were returning home after an anniversary party when they noticed a strange light approaching their vehicle from behind. As the light rapidly approached they thought it could have been a truck but then it suddenly flew over them and stopped about 100 yards ahead. They could now see that within the light there was a round object about 7 meters in diameter, with several bright lights on the bottom and an antenna-like protrusion on top. From inside the object 3 humanoids exited. These were described as about 1.30 meters in height, wearing tight fitting green-metallic body suits and with small staring eyes. As the humanoids approached, the vehicle engine suddenly stalled. In a panic both witnesses began to scream. This apparently startled the humanoids, which turned around levitated back into the object. The object then took off and vanished. Three minutes later they were able to re-start the engine and left the scene.

A husband and wife were out for a drive and went exploring in southeast Markham. They took a right off of Markham Road/Main Street just south of Hwy 7 and drove through a residential area. They eventually came to a dead end road. They sat there with their car running and headlights on and saw something stand and move south across their lines of vision, about 20 meters or so ahead of them. The area is wooded and was covered in snow at the time. They were both stricken with absolute fear unlike any either of them had felt before. In trying to figure out what they saw they eliminated a bear---partly because it was the wrong time of year and in a fairly populous place, but primarily because it just wasn't shaped like a bear. It was much thinner and the proportion of limbs to trunk was more human than bear. They eliminated ape because they are not indigenous to the area and this creature did not look like an ape---its body was svelte---narrower than an ape would be across the shoulders and torso. It was solid as opposed to an apparition, and walked entirely upright with casual stride. If it was human it would be unusually large---at least 6.5feet but probably closer to 7 or even more. If it was clothed, the clothing was form-fitting and not bulky. Basically it looked like a big guy in a wetsuit to the witnesses. Broad shouldered but narrow at the waist and buttocks, legs and arms and head proportional like a human. The entire incident took maybe three seconds and then there was a percussive deep growl that seemed to come from everywhere. It felt like a sonic boom but didn't really seem very loud.

One night the witness was watching television when he heard something from outside in his backyard. It sort of sounded like the sound of a bag of chips would make when you shuffle it around. He decided to brush it off, as his favorite show was on. A few minutes later he heard the sound again and he then thought that it was his dogs. Since it was a commercial, he decided to check it out. His bathroom right between his brothers and his room had a window which allowed you to see the whole backyard. He looked out and didn't see his dogs but he saw something strange. It was a figure about 3 ft tall, it was human but it had what appeared to be a lump on its head. It ran towards the fence and just vanished. The witness stood there for a few seconds scratching his head. Then he alerted his brother who didn't believe him as expected, and neither did his mother. He still wanted to check it out so he took a knife and a flashlight to go investigate. He found nothing, not a single trace. A few weeks later it happened again. He had walked into the kitchen to a drink, when he heard the sound again. He ran to the window and saw "it" again. It was the same figure but only this time it was like a bluish color. He saw it only for 2 seconds before it vanished into thin air. He grabbed a knife and bolted for the backyard. It wasn't quite dark outside but it was light enough for him to see it. He went out and checked all over. His dogs were in the house at the time so they couldn't have seen it, but he let them out to try and pick up a trace. He never found anything. Days later he was riding home on his bicycle from playing outside. It was a bit chilly outside but he didn't mind it. And then when he was about 2 houses from his house he saw "it" again. It was in the backyard of the house he was in front of, and they didn't have a fenced in yard so he was able to see it. This time it was sort of reddish and had about 2 or 3 bumps on its head. The witness was extremely frightened. He rushed to his house. And then he rushed over to warn the neighbor but the creature was gone by the time and they didn't believe him.

Next to the object stood three men more than 2 meters in height, they had broad shoulders and were very thin in nature. Their heads were clearly smaller than normal and were kind of pointed at the top they also had large slanted eyes that stretched to the back of their heads. They were wearing white tight-fitting uniforms similar to deep sea divers.

The three 'men' seemed to be involved in a sort of 'constant activity' bending down numerous times.
